Little Fish, Big Fun

Saturday afternoon I had to run by my dad's nursery to help him work on a fish finder. Of course my whole herd tagged along with me, even Baby Beth came along. I think the only reason Jake and Josh wanted to go was so they could fish at Papaw Mike's pond!

At the nursery, my dad had a pond packed full of small bluegill! They are a nightmare for the pond, but for a little kid who likes to fish they are a dream come true! Just about every cast is a winner! As soon as the bait hits the water, either "fish on or bait gone!"

So, after I got the fish finder for Dad's boat going, the herd headed over the hill to the pond. Mom and Baby Beth sat in the car and watched from the top of the hill. I can't remember who went first, but I do know one fishing pole is not enough for all four kids. I heard a lot of "it's my turn" and fussing. The fish were small, but just caught a world record! She was really enjoying the fishing thing! When we got home she said, "can we go back to Papaws and fish?"

I know papaw is not a big fan of the tiny bluegill, but it looks like will have to keep them for a few more years. He might want to invest in some more fishing poles as well!! Some small fish made for a great little time for me and the herd!

My suggestion is, introduce a kid fishing in a pond like this one. The action is non-stop and the kids love it, or at least mine did! I think 4 out of 5 of my kids are hooked on fishing now; I'm sure #5 will be soon, too!!

Congratulations, goes out to Matthew Plowman on getting a really nice full velvet buck Saturday! I got to see the buck up close, and I am afraid I have contracted the disease known as buck fever! Good luck to all that are in the woods chasing after deer!

Please send me pictures of the harvest at wetstone kennels@yahoo.com!

Until next week, get out and enjoy God's creation!

just about every cast, a fish was caught.

I was surprised that Jake and Josh didn't end up in the water. They are super competitive, and with that comes some arguments! They fussed a little, but both caught several fish. The oldest, Bailey, kinda' kept them in line while I took fish off the hook!

I think a new fisherwoman was born this past weekend by the name of Brinley Paige Bicknell, or as we call her "B". She caught a couple of fish. She had a big smile on her face like she had Matt Plowman with a nice opening day full velvet buck!
