Page 14, The Estill County Tribune, November 20, 2013

y. River Water Trail Alliance meets locally

by Delores Rowland The Estill County Tribune

Estill County hosted its first conference of the Kentucky River Water Trail Alliance on Thursday.

100 people present were lo-Hazard, near the mouth of the Kentucky River, and Carrollton, where the river Adventure Tourism ex- County. flows into the Ohio, and all plained a Trail Town. cities in between.

Water Trail Alliance was created to bring many in our communities," she river. groups together who are stated. "They never have interested in water quality reason to." and recreation.

a water trail. It's already erage of $240 a visit. there." said Pat Banks, Kentucky Riverkeeper.

She added that no organization has to acquire land tion for ramps to access the 1,000. Kentucky River.

Banks stated a canoe/ front is full. kayak ramp which was volunteers.

The Kentucky River has 12,000 miles of trails.

"(Tourists) never stop

"You don't have to build night tourist spends an av- progress on the locks and

The Red River Gorge is best known tourist destination in Kentucky.

Wilson told about Da- from Estill County.

for a water trail. An excep- mascus, Virginia, a Trail tion would be land acquisi- Town with a population of

She said that every store

Livingston, Ky. has About half of the nearly built on the river in August become a certified Trail at the Estill County Park. Town. After it applied, sevcal folks. Others came from All the work was done by eral businesses, including a bike shop, were added to Elaine Wilson of Ky. the tiny city in Rockcastle

> Rob Rumpke of Blue-She said that Kentucky grass Tomorrow suggested scheduling all-river events, such as fireworks on the > Jerry Graves, director of the Kentucky River Wilson said an over- Authority reported on dams.

> > Graves said that KRA employees four lockmasters, including Greg Henry pair. Local leaders once wanted tomake a museum of one of the lock houses.

Barbara Napier, owner of Snug Hollow Bed & Breakfast, and Kenny Cole, environmentalist at the Estill County Health Dept. looked over displays before the KY River Water Trail conference began Thursday at Rice Station Christian Church.

Thursday's conference has renewed local intererst into restoring the beach-

Jerry Graves, director of Kentucky River Authority, presented Ravenna Mayor Estine Tipton with a gift Thursday. At right is Pat Banks, a Kentucky Riverkeeper and member of the Kentucky River Authority. Many others also received gifts and /or door prizes.

The judge explained the county receives approximately $3,800 for each mile of road. He said this money is spent on employees, equipment, and materials.

The fiscal court appointed David Baker and Ronnie Abney Jr. to accompany the road foreman when looking at roads to be adopted in the county road system.

County attorney Rodney Davis said that all 15 people enrolled in a West Care program are in compliance. He told the fiscal court if those 15 were not in that program, they would be in the county jail. Davis briefly addressed the future of alcohol sales. He said he has drafted an ordinance and is awaiting approval from the Alcohol Beverage Commission (ABC). Davis said the legislature passed laws on alcohol sales in 2013, which do not match up with the existing laws. He added that Irvine is quite a ways from its first liquor license. The fiscal court approved a lease agreement with GE Capital Credit to purchase a truck for the road department. They also accepted $159,221 from the Rural Secondary Road Department. The court will advertise for a generator, relocation of a building and a generator at the Race Track tower site. This will be paid for out of CSEPP funds. Approval was given for three employees of Estill Emergency Management to attend the Governor's workshop.

versight VETERANS POST

by Freddy Groves

The House Oversight and Government Reform Committee held hearings recently about conference planning spending by officials at the Department of Veterans Affairs. Planning trips to Nashville, Dallas and Orlando, meant to scope out locations for approval in advance, all the way training conferences, turned into up the chain. Conferences costlovely, overpriced vacations for some.

included promo items and awards, some of which had a value of up to $5,500.

· Conference spending was approved based on 3,000 attendees, but only 1,800 showed up.

A factoid: Conferences that will cost between $20,000 and $500,000 need varying levels of ing more than $500,000 aren't allowed. How is it then that two Orlando conferences cost $6.1 million? How did the tab for a Las Vegas conference exceed $800,000? One investigator went so far as to say that one specific official lied under oath, a fact bolstered by witnesses. They'd spent $50,000 for a 15-minute parody film about Gen. George Patton, but that official said he had no knowledge of it. He subsequently resigned. At the hearing he repeatedly refused to answer questions. As usual, we're now told that they'll do better, they've taken steps, they'll have more oversight, they'll retrain planning personnel and so on. Haven't we heard that before? Over and over and over?

Continued from Page 1

View Recent Deaths At <EstillTribune.Com>

Here are some of the highlights of testimony given to the committee:

• Multiple employees accepted gifts: A big no-no, especially as the gifts appeared to be given in exchange for hotel bookings for conferences. Among the gifts accepted were: complimentary lodging and upgraded rooms, gift baskets, entertainment tickets, spa treatments and a helicopter ride. Employees didn't deduct the value of the free meals they received, as required. One planner apparently solicited goodies for his family, which he brought to the conference.

• Approximately $762,000 was labeled as unnecessary and/or wasteful spending as the amount

In the past employees have been given $200.00, but the concern with council members this year was the fact that the city has been struggling to meet their bills each month.

"We are up to date on everything. Terry Barnes is caught up, so right now we can do it," stated city clerk Susan Lay.

The council agreed to give the employees the $200 bonus as long as the city can afford it.

They also discussed a meeting that will be held on the 19th of November at the courthouse regarding the merging of the three governments in Estill County.

William VanCleve said that if it comes down to it, he would rather Ravenna merge with the county. He said that it would benefit the citizens of Ravenna to merge with the county because they would only have to pay one property tax bill, whereas now they pay two and would if they joined with Irvine as well.

Mayor Tipton said that it would be a very lengthy process because of tax rates and garbage rates, and things of that nature would have to be refigured. She added that the meeting on the 19th will just be a discussion about the different options that the three governments have at this time.

You Bend'em — We Mend'em

- Complete Wreck Rebuilding
- Specializing in Frame Repair
- All Types of Painting
- Complete Glass Repair & Replacement
- Air Conditioning Service

24 Hour Wrecker Service After Hours: Call Bill (723-3305) or Ricky (723-2773) See Ricky, Bill, Earl, or Todd at Arthur's Body Shop 524 Broadway, Irvine • 723-4391 Monday - Friday, 8am-5pm; Saturday, 8am to Noon

Family Owned & Operated for Over 40 Years