Maudie's Naughties

Please Don't Tell

A salesman drops by to see a business customer, and there's not a soul in the office except a big dog emptying wastebaskets. The salesman stares at the animal, wondering if his imagination could be playing tricks on him.

The dog looks up and says, "Don't be surprised. This is just part of my job."

"Incredible," exclaims the man. "I can't believe it. Does your boss know what a prize he has in you? An animal that can talk!"

"No, No!" pleads the dog. "Please don't tell him. I'm already cleaning floors and emptying the trash cans. If he finds out I can talk, he'll be expecting me to answer the phone, too."

Running Rabbits

Two little rabbits are running for their lives in front of a pack of wolves. The one in front yells over his shoulder, "Follow me, I know where there is a place we can hide 'til we outnumber em!" The other yells back, "You'd better keep running! I'm your brother!"

Lion On The Loose

Junior is walking down Main Street when he sees Pa and a crowd of people running towards him. He hollers at Pa, "What's happening?"

"A rabid dog is in town!" is the reply.

"Oh shucks!" says Junior. "Which way is it heading?"

Pa replies, "Son, do you don't think we're chasing it?"

Kit Bragging

Three female cats are bragging about their kittens. The first says, "My kittens' father is a pure Persian cat." The second says, "Mine's father is pure-bred Siamese." The third cat just sits there, saying nothing. So the first two cats ask her, "Well, what are your kittens' father?"

She replies, "Oh, I don't really know . . . I had my head stuck in a tuna can at the time."

Alligators

Two alligators regularly swim up the Potomac during the summertime and are waiting to feed near the water's edge.

The small one turns to the big one and says, "I don't understand how you can be so much bigger than me. I know we're the same age . . . I just don't get it."

"Well," says the big alligator. "What have you been eating?"

"Washington politicians, same as you," replies the small one.

"Well," says the big alligator, "How do you catch 'em?"

"I wait near the parking lot, and when a BMW pulls in to park, I just wait for someone to unlock the door. Then I jump on 'em, bite 'em, squeeze the crap out of them and eat 'em."

"Ah," says the big alligator. "That's the problem. By the time you get done squeezing the crap out of them, there's nothing left but lips and a briefcase."

Canaries

Ma tells everyone she wants two yellow canaries for Christmas. Junior draws her name, so on Christmas day he is showing Pa what he has in the cage for Ma's present. When Pa looks into the cage, Junior has two pale green parakeets.

Pa says, "Son, I thought Ma said she wanted two yellow canaries for Christmas."

"She did," replies Junior. "The lady I bought them from at the flea market said these weren't quite ripe yet."

Pig Story

A pig walks into a store and buys a large soft drink. Afterwards, he asks to use the restroom and then leaves.

A while later, another pig comes in, drinks a large soft drink, asks to use the restroom and then leaves.

Sometime later, a third pig does the same thing, and then a fourth drinks a soft drink, asks to use the restroom and leaves.

In a while, another piggy comes in, drinks a large soft drink and starts out the door.

"Aren't you going to ask to use the restroom like the last four pigs did," asks the store manager.

"Nah," says the pig. "I'm the fifth piggy. I'll just wee, wee, wee all the way home."

Alligators

A man walks into a bar with an alligator on a leash and asks the barman, "Do you serve Washington politicians in here?"

The barman replies, "Of course, we serve people from all types of occupations."

"OK," says the man, "Then a beer for me, and a Washington politician for the alligator"

Two Cows

Two cows are standing in a field. The first cow says to the other, "I'm a little bit concerned about this mad cow disease that's going around." The second cow replies, "Don't worry about it . . . it doesn't affect us chickens."

Yard Care

Pa notices that Bambi goes out every morning and sprinkles something white all over her yard, so he decides to ask her what she is doing.

"Oh," answers Bambi. "That's elephant powder. I bought it at the flea market to keep the elephants from trampling my flowers."

Pa says, "Everybody knows that there ain't no elephants around here!"

"Well," replies Bambi. "I guess it must be working then."

Estill County Relay For Life Is Friday, June 6th

Relay For Life is largest community fundraiser in the world

Relay For Life of Estill County will be held this Friday, June 6th at the Estill County High School Track. We have held Relay events in our county since 1997, however many still ask "What is Relay?"

Relay For Life is the American Cancer Society's signature activity, and it's the largest community fundraiser in the world. It is a unique event that offers everyone in a community the opportunity to participate in the fight against cancer. Relay For Life represents the hope that those lost to cancer will never be forgotten, that those who face cancer will be supported and that one day cancer will be eliminated.

Relays are 12 to 24 hours in length. Estill County's event lasts 12 hours. The Opening Ceremony will begin at 6:00 p.m. with cancer survivors walking the first lap. Cancer survivors, as well as those who lost their battle with the disease, are honored and remembered during the Luminaria Ceremony beginning at 9:15 p.m. Both of these ceremonies provide inspiration and motivation for all the participants of Relay For Life. Many ask where does the money raised go? It goes to research, patient support (transportation assistance, lodging, wigs, Look Good Feel Better Program, Reach To Recovery), prevention and education, and detection and treatment.

Since 2007, the American

Cancer Society had provided 570 services to 165 cancer patients from Estill County. Since its opening in March 2007, the Hope Lodge in Lexington has provided 788 free nights of stay to 30 cancer patients from Estill County; saving these patients over $86,000. For more information, visit: www.cancer.org.

Because Relay is a community gathering, and not an athletic event, anyone and everyone can participate. Teams from families, churches, schools, clubs, friends, businesses, and health agencies will camp out and take turns walking the track. Some of the activities planned are: Dunking Booth, Inflatables, Jail N' Bail, Silent Auction, "Miss Vanna" Contest, Dunk Pond, Concession, Puppet Show, Cloggers, Drama Team, and Zumba. This is only a partial list of the events planned to raise money in the fight against cancer.

No matter who you are, there's a place for you at Relay For Life, please join us this Friday!
