William T. Williams, 82

William Trent Williams, age 82, a native of Ravenna, Kentucky, born April 30, 1932, a son of Isaac and Belle Trent Williams, passed on Tuesday, June 24, 2014.

In 1949, he left high school to enter the United States Navy, and flew with the Naval Air Corps Patrol Squadron 21 in anti-submarine warfare in the North Atlantic and Mediterranean. In 1953, he entered the University of Kentucky, earning his Bachelors in Education in just two and one-half years, and later a Masters in History. In 1962 he earned a Masters in Mathematics from the University of Tennessee.

He subsequently taught for two years at Lafayette High in Lexington, and four years at the Sewanee Military Academy, where he also served as Assistant Commandant, before returning to Lexington in 1963 to head the high school at Sayre School where he implemented the first high-school level computer programming curriculum in the state.

From 1968-1976 he was headmaster of Bollingbrook School in Petersburg, Virginia, developing it into a K-12 school of 500 students.

He also served as president of the Virginia Association of Independent Schools and was instrumental in revising the accrediting standards for private schools.

In 1976, he returned to Lexington and served as headmaster of Sayre School for fourteen years, developing many student and teacher enrichment programs. The annual Sayre History Symposium for private and public teachers received national acclaim; he was responsible for the renovation of Old Sayre; the construction of a building for the middle school; the expansion of the upper school; the development of a fine arts center; and the acquisition of three playing fields. He authored the text Problems in Mathematics, and All Rise, a history of Sayre School, and co-authored two texts on computer usage for the high school. He served as president of the Kentucky Association of Independent Schools, served on the Board of Directors of the Accrediting Agency for Private Schools in the Central States (ISACS), and chaired numerous accreditation teams.

William T. Williams

In retirement he taught at the American School in England and served as adjunct faculty for Midway College, Eastern Kentucky University, and Jefferson Community College.

Mr. Williams is survived by his loving wife of 61 years, the former Peggy Arnold; children, Jeffrey, Robin (Michael Brohm) and Christopher (Diane Cox); brothers, Roger (Lois) and Don (Pat); sisters, Barbara (Johnny Rison), and Kay Lay; granddaughters, Zoë Catherine, Morgan Pauline "May"; and numerous nieces and nephews.

A memorial service was held at 10:00 a.m., Wednesday, July 2 at Beargrass Christian Church, 4100 Shelbyville Road, Louisville; followed by a private graveside service. Visitation was 5-8 p.m., Tuesday, July 1 at the church.

In lieu of flowers, contributions can be made to Sayre School, Estill County Public Library or Doctors Without Borders.

Jesus said:
Matthew ch. 11, v. 28
"Come unto me
all ye that labour
and are heavy laden, and I will give you rest."

John, ch. 3, v. 16:
"For God so
loved the world,
that he gave his
only begotten
Son, that whoso-
ever believeth in him should not perish, but have everlasting life."
