Conservation

Conservation District Announces Annual Contest For Local Students

The Estill County Conservation District is proud to announce the annual Conservation Writing and Jim Claypool Art Contest. This contest is sponsored by the Kentucky Division of Conservation, Kentucky Farm Bureau, and Kentucky's 121 Conservation Districts. The contest has begun every year since 1944 with the announcement of the theme. The 2014 theme is "Protect Kentucky's Soil"

The art contest is open to students in grades 1-5 and the writing contest to grades 6-12. This includes all students in public, private and home schools.

2014 Contest materials and teacher's guide are available online: kyfb.com/federation and conservation.ky.gov. If you are unable to locate these please contact the local conservation district at 606-723-5104 for assistance.

Prizes will be awarded as follows:
State Winners: $250 first place, $150 second place and $50 third place
Area Winners: $50 to the writing and art winner in each of the nine Soil & Water Conservation Commission areas.

District Winners: $25 to the writing and art winner in each of the 121 conservation district in Kentucky.

*State and Regional winners will receive a personalized plaque and certificate. County winners that win regional or state awards will only receive one check for the top prize.

Deadline: All entries are due to the Estill County Conservation District by December 1, 2014, located at 1505 Richmond Road.
