

Trick or treating around town

The line for Trick or Treat Trot started at the intersection of Broadway and Court Street. The camera captured a part of the line down to the former location of Gumm's Restaurant. Parents said the line went down Court Street past the Estill County Library.

Ravenna First Church of Nazarene invited trick or treaters to come to their tent across the street from the church. Children were given candy, coloring books, and an invitation to attend church services.

Amanda Byrd with daughters, Donna and Mercedes, and niece Brianna Risner, trick or treated on Main St. in Irvine.

Erin and Francie Snowden dressed up for trick or treaters at their home on Main Street. A big attraction was their rabbit, Shelbun.

Shelby Charles, daughter of Kim and Tim Charles, made a beautiful Indian princess, as she headed toward Trick or Treat Trot on Thursday evening.

Riley and Chase Hobbs took time out from trick or treating to have their photo made in front of the Mushroom on Main Street.

IPD arrests three on separate charges

The Irvine Police Department was called to investigate domestic violence at 523 Laurel Street, Irvine on Halloween afternoon.

The investigating officer, John Sturniolo, said that Miranda Kelly was involved in an argument over $40 which was missing from her mother's purse.

Kelly, 24, is also known as Miranda Hackworth and lives at the address where the alleged altercation occurred.

Sturniolo said that Kelly told him that she had taken oxycodone pills about two hours earlier. The officer added that Kelly had slurred speech, was unsteady on her feet, and was extremely emotional.

The officer said that Kelly's mother had face and ankle injuries.

Kelly was arrested and charged with domestic violence fourth degree (minor injury) and public intoxication.

Disorderly at hospital

An Irvine woman has been arrested for being disorderly at Marcum & Wallace Hospital.

Sgt. Mike Gross responded to the call at 4:50 a.m. on October 31 about a disorderly patient.

The citation states that Jaquelynn M. Neal, 26, of 156 N. Plum Street, Irvine was a patient at the hospital because of an overdose.

He said she was warned about screaming and cursing. Gross said that Neal started screaming and cursing when he told her to go back to her bed. He added that she continued to go around him.

Gross stated he told Neal that she was under arrest and grabbed her arm. He said that Neal began fighting with him and they went to the ground. She allegedly put her arms under her back.

The citation states that Gross told her to give him her arms. After she refused, he tazed her.

Gross was assisted by Floyd Edmonson, a hospital security employee, who is also constable of district 3.

Neal was charged with second degree disorderly conduct, a misdemeanor.

She pleaded not-guilty to the charge at Estill District Court on Friday. A pre-trial conference is scheduled for November 12.

Public Intoxication

A man was charged with public intoxication after he passed out in a yard in the 300 block of Broadway, according to a citation at the courthouse.

Police chief Brad Smith said that Rex Grace, 50, of Stacy Lane, Irvine, had a strong odor of alcohol on him. Smith added that an open bottle of vodka was in plain view.

Smith said that Grace could barely stand and almost fell several times.

Marsha Barnes turned her head toward Minnie Mouse (Kayla Barnes) to say she wasn't with the monkey (Terry Barnes). It doesn't work, Marsha!