Estill woman loses arm in Patsey Road wreck

An Estill County woman lost her arm during an automobile accident last Tuesday.

Deputy Russell Morris said he was in Paris when the accident occurred around 4:30 the roadway. It went through a gate and p.m., but was called back to Estill County to investigate the wreck on Patsev Road.

He stated that Glenda Abney was traveling down the back side of a steep mountain shoulder. The deputy thinks that Neeley's near the creek. He said Abney was nearing a real sharp curve to the right.

Local Police Beat

An Irvine female was arrested on drug related charges last Tuesday. KSP Trooper J. Carpenter said he received a complaint of a reckless driver turning into Witt's grocery on Richmond Road. The caller stated that a female had stumbled into the store.

The trooper said he made contact with two vehicles in the car, Terri Renee Noe and Royce Richardson. They told him that a male was driving but had gone back to Rich-

Carpenter was given verbal consent to search the vehicle. He said he found a pill bottle in the glove box containing three xanax bars, a few small pieces of xanax, and an unidentifiable white pill. Carpenter stated he laid the pills on the front seat, and Noe grabbed the white one and tried to put it in her mouth.

The trooper states that he removed the pill and cuffed Noe. He added that Noe had green pill residue on her nostrils, slurred speech and droopy eyes, and was even slobbering at the mouth.

Carpenter said that Noe admitted to snorting a pill earlier and had just taken suboxone and lamotrigine.

Noe, 26, of 331 Broadway was charged with possession of a controlled substance, third degree; public intoxication; and tampering with physical evidence.

Bail for Noe, who is also known by her married name, Terri Denny, was set at $2,500. Court records say she was arrested on a new offense while a case was pending against Noe was arraigned in Estill District Court on November 26. She entered not-guilty pleas to all three of the new charges.

She is expected to return to Estill District Court on December 3 for a preliminary hearing.

Information was not available if Richardson was charged in this incident. She had been arrested on November 22 by Deputy Randy Farthing in an unrelated incident. Farthing charged her with operating motor vehicle under the influence and resisting arrest. She was also charged with possession of a firearm by a convicted felon.

Man arrested after reporting break-in

A Furnace area man reported a burglary at his house on Friday but was arrested instead.

Deputy Randy Farthing said that he was dispatched to 4035 Furnace Junction around 2:43 a.m. to investigate a man knocking on the door asking for help.

The deputy said he spoke with Travis Wayne Adams, 25, who lives at 3070 Furnace Junction. Adams told Farthing that someone had broken into his house and he chased him down the road.

The citation states that Adams' eyes were glassy and pupils were extremely constricted. Farthing said he asked Adams if he had done any illegal narcotics. Adams told him he shot up with methamphetamine at least four times

The deputy stated that Adams then started hallucinating and saw people who were not there. Adams was charged with public intoxication and possession of a controlled substance, first degree and first offense (methamphetamine).

Farthing said Adams had a syringe to his left front pocket and a bag of methamphetamine in his right front pocket. The two items were admitted into evidence.

Adams was arraigned in Estill District Court on Monday, Dec. 1. He pleaded not guilty to both charges. Judge County Community Chorus Community Chorus for this William Leach scheduled Adams to return to court on Dec. 10 for a preliminary hearing.

Bond for Leach was set at $5,000 cash. Court records 3 p.m. at First Baptist Church, are tax deductable and will say that Adams was arrested on a new offense which a case 351 Broadway, Irvine.

Homemade Cookies Are Irresistible

By Philomena Corradeno

Christmas cookies, do you? You can buy holiday cookies from the neighborhood baker or through a catalog or online. They may be delicious, yes, but an important ingredient will be missing — the tantalizing aromas that waft through the house when you bake your own, the scents of butter and vanilla, chocolate and spice that taunt you long after the cookies have cooled. Just be sure your spices are fresh so they'll do their job. Following is a basic butter cookie that you can flavor any way you like: add lemon or almond extract, or a bit of spice. Use cookie cutters appropriate to the season. Or shape into bars. Following that recipe is a Frosted Ginger Cookie with a zingy lemon touch.

BASIC BUTTER COOKIE

cup (2 sticks) unsalted butter,

- cup sugar
- teaspoon pure vanilla extract 1/2 teaspoon salt
- large egg yolk cups all-purpose flour

Red and green decorator

1. With electric mixer, cream butter, sugar, vanilla, salt and egg yolk until smooth. Gradually beat in flour. Wrap dough in plastic wrap and refrigerate 1 hour or up to 2 days.

Confectioners' sugar

2. Preheat oven to 350 F.

3. Roll cut dough on lightly floured surface to 1/8-inch thickness. Cut into desired shapes with cookie cutters. Place on lightly greased cookie sheets. Sprinkle with decorator sugar. Bake 12 to 15 minutes. (Or sprinkle some with decorator sugar and bake, and sprinkle some with confectioners' sugar after cookies have cooled.) Makes about 3 1/2 dozen cookies.

LEMON-FROSTED GINGER COOKIES

- cup sugar 1/2 cup butter, softened
- cup light molasses
- 1/2 cup hot water
- cup all-purpose flour teaspoon baking soda
- teaspoon ground ginger
- teaspoon ground cinnamon
- 1/2 teaspoon ground cloves teaspoon salt

Lemon frosting*

1. Heat oven to 375 F. 2. Combine sugar, butter and egg in large mixer bowl. Beat at medium speed, scraping bowl often, until wellmixed (2 to 3 minutes). Reduce speed to low. Add molasses and hot water. Beat until well-mixed (1 to 2 minutes). Add flour, soda, ginger, cinnamon, cloves and salt; continue beating until will resemble heavy cake batter. 3. Drop dough by rounded teaspoontuls 2 inches apart on greased cookie sheets. Bake 8 to 10 minutes or until set. Cool completely. Spread with Lemon Frosting (recipe follows). Makes 4 dozen cookies.

well-mixed (1 to 2 minutes). Mixture

*LEMON FROSTING

Combine 2 cups confectioners' sugar, 1/4 cup softened butter and 2 teaspoons grated lemon peel in small mixer bowl. Beat at medium speed, scraping bowl often, and gradually add enough milk (2 to 3 tablespoons) for desired spreading consistency. Frost cooled cookies. Sprinkle with grated lemon peel if desired.

'Tis the Season to be ... Ugly!

By Lucie M. Winborne

Tinsel, lights, 3-D ornaments and even gift-wrapped packages aren't just for the Christmas tree anymore. Throw in a few clashing patterns, some cheesy animals and just the right amount of sparkle, attach all to a cozy cardigan, and voila! You've got a custom creation virtually guaranteed to make you a laughingstock.

And the proud owners of ugly Christmas sweaters wouldn't have it any other way ... because as one authority on the subject noted, "It's the most fun you can have with your knitwear on." But what's behind this annual fashion madness?

No one has so far seen fit to 'fess up, but what started as a fad and ended up a full-blown industry appears to have originated in that decade of excess, the '80s. Like other fashion choices we now view with regret, those early "jingle bell sweaters" were no doubt considered charming. Their popularity waned in the '90s, but the first (or so the city of Vancouver, Canada, claims) "ugly" party, in 2001, helped launch them back into the mainstream, where they've remained ever since. And why not, in a season that's often filled with as much stress as cheer, many of us could use a good laugh?

Even better is getting ugly for a cause. The brains behind that Vancouver celebration, Jordan Birch and Paul Boyd, admit they never dreamed that "a joke between friends ... would evolve into a grassroots fundraising movement that has inspired non-stop giving around the globe." Their yearly bash now attracts over 1,000 celebrants, with ticket sales generating thousands of dollars for charities and non-profits.

Whether you're out to raise funds or merely have fun, it's time to get your holiday ugly on! Serve Ugly Sweater cookies at your next party. Spring for that dreadful pullover. There's no shortage of suppliers, from department stores to Amazon.com. If you're the do-it-yourself type, you can easily find instructions online. And if you ever have second thoughts about your sartorial choices, chances are good you'll get a return on your investment over on eBay, where collectors have been known to spend hundreds of dollars on the jersey of their dreams.

Merry Christmas! May your days be merry and bright ... and may all your Christmas sweaters be ugly.
