

Public invited to Arts Day in Ky.

The Kentucky Arts Council and arts organizations from across the state will celebrate Arts Day in Kentucky, 9 a.m.-noon Feb. 11 in the Capitol Rotunda, 700 Capital Ave. in Frankfort.

The arts council hosts Arts Day each year during the legislative session to bring awareness of the many roles the arts play in the Commonwealth. Arts leaders, artists, the general public and other supporters of the arts gather to celebrate the arts and the creative industry, and recognize the Kentucky General Assembly for its continued support of the arts.

"This is an important opportunity to bring together all stakeholders in the arts at the same time," said Lori Meadows, arts council executive director. "It helps put a face on the people who, day in and day out, do the good work of promoting arts in their communities and regions. It helps secure Kentucky's position as an innovator in support for the arts."

For the 2014-15 fiscal year, the arts council awarded $1.4 million in Kentucky Arts Partnership (KAP) grants to 96 arts organizations throughout the state. Representatives of those organizations have been invited to Frankfort for Arts Day to tell legislators how KAP funds have helped them continue their respective missions.

2015 marks the 50th anniversary of the establishment of the arts council by Gov. Edward T. Breathitt, as well as the 50th anniversary of the creation of the National Endowment for the Arts (NEA) by Congress. The arts council is celebrating these significant events as the Year of the Arts in Kentucky.

"We are proud to celebrate this milestone in the history of the arts council and to share in the NEA's anniversary," Meadows said. "2014 was a banner year for us, with the release of our first-ever Creative Industry Report and the subsequent Creative Industry Summit. We expect to ride that momentum through 2015 as we celebrate a half-century of service to the Commonwealth."

In addition to providing an avenue for Kentucky artists to meet their legislators, Arts Day will also feature demonstrations and performances from several artists.

Performers and demonstrators for Arts Day include:

Bob Gibson, wood carving, Lawrenceburg

John Harrod, fiddle, Owenton

Marianna McDonald, pastel art, Lexington

Hong Shao, pipa, Nicholasville

Squallis Puppeteers, Louisville

Jennifer Zurick, basket making, Berea

Doug Naselroad, Winchester, and Mike Slone, Mousie; dulcimer makers
