Disappointed With Cartoon

Do we lump all doctors as bad? All teachers cannot be trusted? No news is to be believed? I do not think so, but that is the very thing you and so many others want to do. You see something with one Officer and suddenly they are all bad.

I think it would do some well to remember the incident in Missouri, in which the Officer wound up being not indicted by the Grand Jury. The news media is in such a rush to be first with a story we don't have time to do anything silly like get the facts and get the story straight before we rush to print the first thing anyone who will talk says.

This is also National Police Week in case you did not know, which I am sure you didn't. How about instead of Police bashing you do something productive like get to know your local officers. How long have they been police? What did they do before? Military service? Better yet do an article on families! What their lives are like. All the holidays, birthdays, anniversaries missed. The feeling of having people stop you and your spouse in the store or when your trying to eat just to ask your spouse a legal questions. The people who show up at your door all hours of the day and night because they need to speak with Officer such and such. Court on your days off. Not to mention the ever present possibility that the person who you love and care so much about might walk out that door one day and never return, all to protect people who are so ungrateful! Better yet talk to Bob Walker's family on this police week and do a story on what a great man he was. Fill your paper with that instead of such nonsense and vile!

Lastly, if you do print this letter (which I doubt) I want to take a minute and thank all those Officers and families who risk so much so that we may be just a little bit safer. You have seen people at the worst.

You have seen things that no person should have to see, things that you will never be able to forget, yet some how you still manage to be so kind and compassionate. You tell kids that everything will be ok. You help those in need that no one sees. Some of us do know what you do and we are truly grateful that the blue line is there to protect us! God Bless you everyone and keep you safe.

Sincerely, Jessica Lee
Editor's note: No intent was made to degrade law enforcement. The cartoon clearly is directed at "police misconduct." We fully support our excellent county, state and city police forces.

On behalf of the Irvine Post Office and the NALC we want to thank those participants that donated to our annual Food Drive. Thanks to the combined efforts we were able to collect approximately 2500lbs of food for our local food bank.

Electric safety

IT'S A GOOD IDEA...
 FOR LINEMEN AND FOR YOU

May is electric safety month.

Jackson Energy linemen respect the electric lines they work with and use the proper equipment when they're doing their jobs.

They know the dangers of live wires, and you need to be aware of them, too.

Stay away from downed power lines and think about safety when you're working with electricity around your home or business.

ELECTRIC SAFETY - IT'S NOT JUST FOR LINEMEN.
