Donations needed of non-perishable food items for local food bank

this may be a "hard candy Christmas," said Susan Dick, director of the food bank in Ravenna.

Dick said the food bank started eight years ago this month, and the food supply is at an all time low.

She estimates that 100 families are depending on the food bank this Christ-

Families who qualify can go to the food bank six times a year. Dick said that many of those families will save one of their six visits to go to the food bank in December, to use the food at their holiday meal.

third and fourth Tuesdays of each month. Those who are pre-qualified can go to the fair. food bank the third Tuesday, as long as they have not already been six times this year. The next food distribution is December 15.

Dick said the fourth Tuesreferrals or families who and peanut butter are always are referred to them during emergencies.

"We (the community) have to raise the funds for the referrals," she stated.

munity is needed to make of food items.

For some Estill Countians, sure the food bank stays afloat.

A fund raiser is planned for December 1 at Pizza Hut, where a percentage of sales that day will be donated to the food bank. If you plan to eat at Pizza Hut that day, please stop by Pickers Paradise and pick up a voucher to

The Estill Arts Council will be accepting donations for the food bank at their Arts and Crafts Fair on Saturday, December 5 being held at the Central Office gymnasium. A can of food will be accepted for the food bank as admission, or you can pay $1.00. If you would like Food is distributed the to help the food bank more, you can bring a bag or box of canned foods to the crafts

Dick said the food bank will accept canned vegetables and fruits, or any nonperishable item that does not have to be refrigerated. Besides vegetables, spaday is used to give food to ghetti and spaghetti sauce, welcome items.

Individuals, churches, and groups who would like to donate to the food bank can call Dick at 723-9786. She may The support of the combe able to arrange a pick-up Kaitlyn Bledsose and Havyn Renolds, students in Mrs. Bonny and Mrs. Lena's kindergarten class.

South Irvine P-K Center staff and students are thankful for the veterans and their families who came and shared with them on Veterans Day this year. The staff and children at South Irvine would like to thank the following people for coming and sharing with us.

Stephanie Johnson and her kids came and shared what it is like to be a military family.

Readers were the following: Leah Williams, Don Richardson, Dessa-Lena Kerby, Sonny Muncie, Tommy Lisle, and Tracy Snowden.

Operation Gratitude Can't Do It Alone

VETERANS POST by Freddy Groves

In just one week recently, Operation Gratitude received requests for 11,124 packages to be sent out. There was no panic -- its 322 volunteers went into action and got it done, and someone even managed to shoot a short video of their assembly line. The dilemma: It costs $15 to mail each and every box.

While many items in the boxes are donated by corporations, the shipping costs are all on us, people who send a few dollars to help them get the care packages to those OpGrat's goal is to send out 150,000 packages.

Operation Gratitude started in 2003 as a kitchentable project by one woman, Carolyn Blashek. Because it was a great idea, people and corporations stepped up to

They now send care packages to Wounded Warriors in hospitals and transition units, veterans in Department of Veterans Affairs hospitals and group homes, caregivers, individually named service members overseas, Battalion Buddies (the children of deployed military personnel), military and veteran families who are facing hardship, and new recruits. In 2013, it passed the 1 million care-packages mark.

If you're into the math, tude. Operation Gratitude is a (c) 2015 King Features 501(c)(3) non-profit. Its financials are an open book (with auditor reports posted on the website), and it carries Star charity watchdogs. Each care package contains donated goodies in the $75-$100 range.

Ready to open your wallet and help? You can donate online at www.operationgratitude.com (look for the "Donate" button), or you can send a check to Operation Gratitude, P.O. Box 260257, Encino, CA 91426-0257.

If your group wants to help, the website has a long list of ways you can participate. Want to see the little video and lots of great pics? Check Twitter @OpGrati-

COLLECTING By Larry Cox

Beverage Set

Q: I have a seven-piece beverage set in pink: a pitcher with six goblets in the "Tea Room" pattern. I have examined it carefully, and I think it is in near perfect condition. It is not a reproduction and has been in my family since the 1940s. I have been offered $100 for the set, but thought I would check with you before I agree to the sale. --Betty, Ogden, Utah

A: The "Tea Room" pattern is popular and desirable. It was introduced in 1926 by the Indiana Glass Company of Dunkirk, Indiana, and production continued until 1931. The pattern was issued in four colors: amber, crystal, green and pink. According to Warman's Depression Glass: A Value and Identification Guide by Ellen T. Schroy, your pink pitcher is worth about $135 and the goblets about $65 each. The offer you received is about $400 short of the set's value, per Ellen T. Schroy, an expert in antique glassware who has written several guides.

Q: Although I am not a serious collector, I enjoy going to estate sales and occasionally buy an item or two. Can you recommend a good general price guide that you trust? I am especially interested in kitchenware, glass, toys and jewelry. -- Connie, San Diego

A: There are dozens a 5-star rating from Guide of price guides available, but one I find most helpful is The Antique Trader Antiques & Collectibles price guide edited by Eric Bradley and published by Krause Books. The 32nd edition has just been published, and the cover price of $22.99 is a bargain. This easy to use guide is the No. 1 selling reference of its kind and features more than 4,300 illustrations in full color. Although values can vary from region to region, this guide accurately reflects the antique and collectible marketplace.

(c) 2015 King Features

Annual Hospice Remembrance Tree Ceremony Set For Dec. 6

nual Remembrance Tree wish to take their personalceremony is set for Sunday, ized ornament home with who need them. This year December 6, 2:00 p.m., at them may do so immediate-Richmond Mall inside the ly following the ceremony former JC Penney's.

The event is a long-stand- display period. ing tradition for Hospice ty, bringing hundreds togeth- hospicecp.org, er for more than 20 years.

ment on a tree.

membrance Tree when they Care Plus. hear their loved one's name.

following the ceremony.

Care Center on Isaacs Lane pay.

Hospice Care Plus' an- in Richmond. Guests who or anytime during the tree's

To request an ornament, Care Plus and the communi- contact Hospice at hospice@ 1500, or 1-800-806-5492. The Remembrance Tree Donations for ornaments can ceremony gives the com- also be made online at Hosmunity a chance to remem- pice's website: hospicecareber loved ones during the plus.org. There is no charge holiday season by placing a for the ornaments or for the personalized memorial orna- ceremony, but the organization does suggest a dona-After an opening prayer tion—of any size—when and holiday music, the me- requesting the personalized morial list of names is read. ornament. Proceeds from Guests place their personal- the event fund all of the proized ornament on the Re- grams offered by Hospice Hospice Care Plus is If no one is present to place a non-profit organization the ornament on the tree, a serving Estill, Jackson, Lee, hospice staff member will do Madison, Owsley and Rockcastle counties. Services in-Refreshments are served clude hospice care, palliative care, bereavement outreach, The Remembrance Tree and hospice inpatient care will remain on display at the Compassionate Care throughout the holiday sea- Center. All services are proson at the Compassionate vided regardless of ability to

Dewayne and Allison Banks invite the public to the Eagle Scout AwardCeremony of their son, Tyler Price Banks, on Sunday, November 29, 2 p.m. at Calvary Baptist Church. Tyler is a member of Troop

Give yourself and your family a Christmas gift that keeps on giving! Earn your GED!!

What will this gift cost you? Nothing!!

Both the GED Ready pretests and the actual GED Tests are now free at the Estill County Adult Learning Center.

Future Test Dates

Madison County

Powell County

December 1, 2015

December 12, 2015

December 16, 2015

Contact the Center at 606-723-7323 for more information.

Deputy seeks vehicle after hit and run wreck

Three women have been injured in wrecks over the past week including a woman was vine was traveling up Hargett-Parvin Road transported to Marcum and Wallace Hospital on Saturday night after she was involved in a one-vehicle collision on Pea Ridge Road.

Deputy Randy Farthing said that Kimberly Riddell of Stacy Lane failed to negotiate a curve when she apparently lost control of her struck trees head on. 2000 Lincoln Towncar due to a wet road.

fence owned by Larry Riddell of Pea Ridge Road.

The vehicle received minor to moderate juries. damage to the front. Kimberly Riddell had no passengers in her auto.

Two women were injured Monday, November 16 during a hit and run collision on Hargett-Parvin Road.

Kimberly Tipton of EK Power Lane, Irwhen her vehicle rounded a curve.

Deputy Russell Morris said that an unknown vehicle sideswiped Tipton's vehicle and left the scene.

Tipton's vehicle traveled off the road and Tipton, and her passenger, Jennifer Puck-The Towncar left the roadway and struck a ett, also of EK Power Lane were both injured and were transported to Marcum & Wallace Memorial Hospital for treatment of their in-> Tipton's 2011 Nissan Versa received severe damages to the front.

> Anyone with information on the vehicle that struck Tipton's can contact the sheriff's department at 723-2323.

The Estill County Tribune

Estill County Adj. Counties 1 year $16.04 1 year $26.42 1 year $30.19 1 year $32.00

City, State, Zip

Kentucky

Out of State

Sales Tax 0.96 Sales Tax 1.58 Sales Tax 1.81 Total $17.00 Total $28.00 Total $32.00 Total $32.00

Sales Tax 0.00

**Seniors, 65 and older, may deduct $2.50 from above totals

Name
Address

Send this form with proper payment to:

The Estill County Tribune 6135 Winchester Road Irvine, Kentucky 40336-8517