

Light Up The River Town

Crafts is a family business with Jennifer Arthur. She sold jewelry and her mom sold babies, below, and while her father was outside doing the wood. She watched over his booth of woodcrafts.

Paul Paguada decorated ornaments Saturday for the FCCLA Club at Estill County High School.

Another member of FCCLA is Kristin Hardy, who also personalized ornaments.

Will Burkhart, a high school student sold ornaments he had decorated with stripes like used to decorate cars. A friend sold for him as he had to leave for a while and go to a ball game.

This was the first year for Mary Hall Raider to set up at Light Up The River-town. She explained that she didn't make the items she was selling. They are sold through home parties.

Courtney Barnes was at South Irvine P-K on Thursday to demonstrate dental care to kindergarten students. She used the stuffed monkey's teeth to show students how to take care of theirs.

Jeffrey Jackson, Captain and Paramedic with Montgomery Fire and EMS, talked to students last Thursday at South Irvine P-K Center. He spoke with the students about safety in the home and when to use 911.
