False Teachers Will Be Judged...

1 Peter 1:1-2 Greetings From Peter

'Simon Peter, a servant and an apostle of Jesus Christ, to them that have obtained like precious faith with us through the righteousness of God and our Saviour Jesus Christ: <sup>2</sup>Grace and peace be multiplied unto you through the knowledge of God, and of Jesus our Lord.

Sponsored by Crooked Creek Christian Church Inc.

Fast food restaurants and high speed internet access have conditioned us to rush our way through life. We resent deeply having to stand in a grocery line, wait for someone to answer a phone call or return a message. If it isn't instant, it isn't worth "my" time.

But there is value in waiting on some things. Especially for God to work in our lives. It was for David. It certainly is for us.

"I waited patiently for the Lord," he said. We do not know what David was waiting for or the problems he was facing. It may be that this time of waiting for a response from God was different from the other times he looked to God for help. There are many instances in the Psalms when he called on God and He responded immediately and rescued him. This time was different. He not only waited - but he waited patiently. His anxiety did not overpower him. His needs or wants were not driving him to distraction or irrational behavior. No, his mind was focused on God's love, grace, mercy and wisdom. From times past he knew God would respond.

And the results of his patience were, as we would say today, unreal. "He turned to me... He heard me...He lifted me...He set my feet on a rock...He gave me a firm place to stand!" From adversity to abundance!

In humility and submission he waited for God. He knew that God had the answer that was in his best interest: "make him a man after My own heart."
