Estill Countians Pray for America

Forty people gathered at the Estill County Courthouse on Monday afternoon to pray for America. No candidates' names were mentioned during the prayer service. The Body of Christ in Irvine has also held two prayer services in the past week. Left photo: A young man lifts his hands in praise during a song. Bottom left: Paul Groves, pastor of River Drive Christian Church, was one of several local pastors who spoke briefly to the crowd. Driver in 13-mile pursuit on KY 52 located by KSP

A Stacy Lane resident who led state police on a 13-mile long pursuit on October 27 was arrested November 1 on a warrant charging him with over 30 felony charges.

If he is found guilty of all charges and receives the maximum sentence on each charge, he could serve over 150 years in prison.

KSP Trooper Austin Brashear obtained an arrest warrant for Ethan Newman, 26, of Stacy Lane following the pursuit.

The warrant states that Newman occupied a vehicle that had been reported stolen to Kentucky State Police. Trooper Brashear said he observed the vehicle traveling west on KY 52 and initiated a traffic stop. He added that he gave verbal commands for Newman to leave the vehicle, but Newman did not comply and fled in the stolen vehicle. This allegedly started the pursuit which lasted for 13 miles. Brashear said that during the pursuit, Newman put multiple people at risk of bodily harm by driving at an excessively high rate of speed and swerving in and out of traffic. He said that during the pursuit, Newman also failed to yield for emergency vehicles.

Brashear stated that Newman almost collided with four police officers who were engaged in the pursuit, while attempting to stop the stolen vehicle.

During the investigation, the officer determined the stolen vehicle had received damages in excess of $1,000.

Newman was charged with four counts of wanton endangerment first degree of a police officer.

Outdoor Fires Are Banned

On Monday, Judge Executive Wallace Taylor signed an executive order banning all open or outdoor burning in Estill County due to the extremely dry weather.

The judge stated there were no forest fires in Estill County on Monday. Gov. Matt Bevin declared a statewide emergency last week, which allowed the Kentucky National Guard to assist in fighting forest fires in Eastern Kentucky.

By Monday morning, Estill Countians were smelling smoke from those fires which were burning in Eastern Kentucky.

Violators of the ban will be subject to penalties which is enforced by the Kentucky Division of Forestry per KRS 149.400.

Once the ban on outdoor burning is lifted, Kentucky will remain under the regulations of Fall Forest Fire Season. There will be no burning within 150 feet of woodlands between the hours of 6 a.m. until 6 p.m. The fall fire season continues through Dec. 15.

Local Election Results

Because The Estill County Tribune is printed before voting ended on Tuesday, Nov. 8, election results will be in next week's issue.

Later tonight, local election results will be published on the newspaper's Facebook page. They will also be updated on the webpage estilltribune.com.

Public is invited to meeting Nov. 14 to hear answers on Tenorm dumping

Have you got questions about the Tenorm that was illegally dumped last year at Blue Ridge RDF or the proposed settlement between state agencies and the landfill?

Monday, November 14 is your opportunity to receive answers to your questions.

There will be a meeting for the public at 7 p.m. at the Estill County High School Auditorium.

The secretaries of the Energy and Environment Cabinet (Charles Snavely) and the Cabinet for Health and Family Services (Vickie Glisson) and their respective attorneys/specialists will be there to discuss the status of their decisions, including remediation, with the issues regarding the illegal dumping of TENORM at the Blue Ridge Landfill.

The state does not plan to finalize the proposed agreement until they hear comments from citizens.

All citizens from Estill County and surrounding areas are invited and encouraged to attend to hear these discussions. The Concerned Citizens of Estill County has made the arrangements for this meeting.
