

Profitts hold annual reunion at Carl McIntosh's "Shelter Valley"

The family of James and Betsy "Pop" Crowe Profitt held their annual reunion on Saturday, August 26, 2016 at Carl McIntosh's "Shelter Valley" off Watson Ridge Road near Furnace. Thanks, Carl & Teddy.

Shelter Valley is what once was a native American shelter that has been enlarged. At one of the first overhangs, visitors are greeted by a native American display.

The picnic site is a large overhang with a level space that could accommodate a few hundred people. The wall of the overhang is flanked by a wall Carl made of hand cut stone and is perfect for holding the potluck dishes. Nearby there are scenic views, hiking trails, cliff climbing and this year added attractions of a large size "teepee" along with a slide through a 3-foot plastic pipe.

Those in attendance included Carla Knox, Dallas Knox, Virgil Barnes, Kay Barnes, Gene Watson, Eva Watson, Carl McIntosh, Wayne Wise, Wilma Wise, Kathy Cooper, Juan Diaz, Emily Cooper, Hector Profitt,
