Maudie's Naughties

The Treatment

A woman goes to the doctor's office. She sits down next to Uncle Silas and starts telling him about everything that is wrong with her.

After a few minutes she bursts out of room the into the parking lot, screaming as she runs. A doctor and two nurses run after her and ask her what the problem is, and she explains.

They take her into an exam room, and the doctor marches back to Uncle Silas in the waiting room and demands, "What's the matter with you? Mrs. Smith is 63 years old, she has four grown children and seven grandchildren, and you tell her she is pregnant?"

Uncle Silas smiles smugly as he continues to read his magazine. "Cured her hiccups though, didn't I?"

Revelation

A kindergarten teacher is observing her classroom of children while they draw. She occasionally walks around to see each child's artwork. As she gets to one little girl who is working diligently, she asks what the drawing is.

The girl replies, "I'm drawing God."

The teacher pauses and says, "But no one knows what God looks like."

Without missing a beat, or looking up from the drawing the girl replies, "They will in a minute."

Job Interview

Mitsy goes for a job interview to be a secretary.

When the manager sees Mitsy's colorful attire and gold and white-highlighted hair, his mind is screaming "NOT THIS WOMAN."

Nevertheless, he still had to interview Mitsy. So he tells her, "If you can form a sentence using the words I give you, then maybe I will give a chance!"

The words are GREEN, PINK, YELLOW, BLUE, WHITE, PURPLE, and BLACK."

Mitsy thinks for a while and says, "I hear the phone GREEN, GREEN, GREEN, then I go and PINK up the phone, I say YELLOW, BLUE's that? WHITE did you say? Aiyah, telemarketer, lah... Don't PURPLEly disturb people and don't call BLACK, ok? T'anks."

The manager faints.

Renewed Friendship

Peter and Larry had not seen each other in many years. Now they had a long talk trying to fill in the gap of those years by telling each other their lives.

Finally Peter invites Larry to visit him in his new apartment. "I've got a wife and three kids and I'd love to have you visit us."

"Great. Where do you live?"

"Here's the address. And there's plenty of parking behind the apartment. Come around to the front door, kick it open with your foot, go to the lift and press the button with your left elbow, then enter. When you reach the sixth floor, go down the hall until you see my name on the door. Then press the doorbell with your right elbow and then I'll let you in."

"Good. But tell me... what is all this business of kicking the front door open, then pressing lift buttons with my right, then my left elbow?"

"Why, don't tell me you're coming without bringing us something!"

Good Samaritan

Tom goes to a bar for a drink after work and can't help noticing a man in the far corner passed out over his beer. He is very drunk and incoherent.

Deciding to do his good deed for the day, Tom checks the man's wallet and finds his address. Then he tries to help the man stand up. But he keeps falling down. Dragging him heaving, Tom finally carries the drunk outside and gets him into his car.

When he reaches the drunk's house he pulls him out of the car but he still can't stand up. So Tom sought help from passers-by, drags the man to the front door and rings the bell.

A woman opens the door and he explains that he'd brought her husband home.

"Thank you very much," she says. "But where did you leave his wheelchair?"

New Shoes

Bubba walks into a shoe store, and tries on a pair of shoes. "How do they feel?" asks the sales clerk.

"Well they feel a bit tight," replies Bubba.

The assistant promptly bends down and has a look at the shoes and at the man's feet. "Try pulling the tongue out," the clerk says.

"Well, theyth sthlll feelh a bith tighth."
