

Estill County Relay for Life

Dr. Vivian Ong received a rose after the survivor's lap during Relay for Life.

Super Heroes of all ages could be found at Estill County High School on Friday night as hundreds of people gathered for the annual Relay for Life. Tribune Photo/Cathy Dawes

A group from the Wagersville Community Pentecostal Church of God walked for their friend Peggy Chaney who is battling lymphoma and Hodgkin's lymphoma. Chaney was unable to attend Relay for Life because she had received a treatment earlier in the week and was not feeling well but the group said they wanted to show her their love and support. Most of the children in the group are members of Chaney's Sunday school class.

Bob and Wilma Flinchum have been happily married for 62 years and have both battled cancer during their marriage. Wilma was diagnosed with colon cancer in 1994 and Bob was diagnosed with prostate cancer in 2002. Bob said he is 90 years old and his goal is to live to be 100 years old.

First responders were asked to walk a lap and be recognized for their hard work and dedication to the people of the community on Friday night.

Lindsey Wood was recognized by the Estill County Board of Education on Thursday night, June 15, 2017, for being chosen to participate in the Governor's Scholar program. She is presented a certificate by school board member Donna Isfort.

Phyllis Dawson, left, and Sue Walling, right, both of Irvine, each won a $500 shopping spree prize in a drawing held by Meade's Do it Center.

Will Burkhart was recognized by the Estill County Board of Education on Thursday night, June 15, 2017, for being chosen to participate in the Governor's Scholar program. He is presented a certificate by school board member Donna Isfort.