Maudie's Naughties

Stuck Jeep
During a training exercises, a private driving down a muddy back road encounters another car stuck in the mud with a red faced Colonel at the wheel.
"Your jeep stuck, sir?" asks the private as he pulls alongside.
"Nope," replies the Colonel, coming over and handing him the keys, "Yours is!"

Praying for Help
A businessman who needed millions of dollars to clinch an important deal went to church to pray for the money. By chance he knelt next to a man who was praying for $100 to pay an urgent debt.
The businessman took out his wallet and pressed $100 into the other man's hand.
Overjoyed, the man thanked him, got up and left the church, praising God.
The businessman watched as the man left and the door behind him completely closed, then bowed his head and prayed, "And now, Lord, that I have your undivided attention..."

Magic Show
During a recent vacation in Las Vegas, a man went to see a popular magic show. After one especially amazing feat, a man from the back of the theater yelled, "How'd you do that?"
"I could tell you, sir", the magician answered, " But then I'd have to kill you."
After a short pause, the man yelled back, "Ok, then. Just tell my wife!"

The Maid
A lady is quarreling with her maid whom she has just fired, and the maid decides to tell her some home truths.
"I'll tell you, madam" she says. "Your husband has told me himself that he thinks I'm a better housekeeper, cook and laundress than you are! And he thinks I'm prettier. But that's not all - I'm better than you in bed, too!"
"I suppose he told you that too?" demands the lady.
"No," she replies, "The gardener told me that!"

Time Flies
A guy hears a knocking on his door. He opens it up, and no one is there. He looks all around and he finally sees a little snail sitting on the doormat. He picks it up and throws it across the street into a field. Two weeks go by, and one day he hears a knocking on his door. He opens it up and no one is there. He looks all around, and he finally sees a little snail sitting on the doormat. The snail says, "What the heck was that all about?"

New Watch
Johnny is in the playground with his friend Jimmy when he notices the brand new shiny watch Jimmy is wearing. "Where did you get that new watch?"
"Oh," says Jimmy. "I caught my sister and her boyfriend in her bedroom the other day, and he gave me his watch to get rid of me."
Johnny is extremely impressed with the watch and vows to get one for himself. That night he sneaks inside his sister's bedroom and sure enough finds she and her boyfriend there.
"What do you want?" demands the boyfriend.
"I want a watch," replies Johnny.
"Well," says the boyfriend, "Stand over there in that corner, but be quiet."

Best Friend
A man is sitting at the bar in his local tavern, furiously imbibing shots of whiskey. One of his friends happens to come into the bar and sees him.
"Lou," says the shocked friend, "what are you doing? I've known you for over fifteen years, and I've never seen you take a drink before. What's going on?"
Without even taking his eyes off his newly filled shot glass, the man replies, "My wife just ran off with my best friend." He then throws back another shot of whisky in one gulp.
"But," says the other man, "I'm your best friend!"
The man turns to his friend, looks at him through bloodshot eyes, smiles, and then slurs, "Not anymore!"

Winning Photos
The photographer for a national magazine is assigned to get photos of a great forest fire. Smoke at the scene is too thick to get any good shots, so he frantically calls his home office to hire a plane.
"It will be waiting for you at the airport!" he is assured by his editor.
As soon as he gets to the small, rural airport, sure enough, a plane is warming up near the runway. He jumps in with his equipment and yells, "Let's go! Let's go!"
The pilot swings the plane into the wind and soon they are in the air.
"Fly over the north side of the fire," says the photographer, "And make three or four low level passes."
"Why?" asks the pilot.
"Because I'm going to take pictures! I'm a photographer, and photographers take pictures!" says the photographer with great exasperation and impatience.
After a long pause the pilot says, "You mean you're not the instructor?"

Letter to the Editor

State should honor retirement contract obligations

There has been a great deal of conversation in the press lately about public pensions – and there should be. It is a critical issue facing our Commonwealth, possibly the most critical issue for at least the next decade. The question of "How did we get here?" has shifted to the more important one of "How do we fix this?" Governor Bevin and today's Legislators must do what their predecessors, in large part, failed to do – honor the full obligation of the state to its retired public employees – and provide the revenue necessary to resolve the problem while mitigating the impact on the rest of the state budget.

We retirees have an expectation that the pension contract will be honored. This is not unfair nor unreasonable. During our working years, money was taken from each of our paychecks for the purpose and with the promise of an earned benefit in retirement. We had no option other than to participate and if there were issues with the state doing the same, it was not our doing nor our fault. Whether we were a Correctional Officer, Maintenance Worker, Accountant, State Trooper, Social Service Worker, Auditor, or any of the hundreds of other classifications, we met our obligation under this contract and now expect the state to do the same.

Every public retiree - and active employee - must speak up and make their elected representatives aware of our expectations. The time has passed to sit back and wait for "they" to do this.
