Maudie's Naughties

Sunday Diner

A young couple invites their elderly preacher for Sunday dinner. While they are in the kitchen preparing the meal, the minister asks their son what they are having.

"Goat," the little boy replies.
"Goat?" replies the startled man of the cloth, "Are you sure about that?"

"Yep," says the youngster. "I heard Dad say to Mom, 'Today is just as good as any to have the old goat for dinner.'"

Marooned

Two men are marooned on an Island. One man paces back and forth worried and scared while the other man sits back and is sunning himself. The first man says to the second man, "aren't you afraid we are about to die."

"No," says the second man, "I make $100,000 per week and I tithe faithfully to my church ever week. My Pastor will find me."

True Confessions

Three preachers were spending some time on the lake relaxing and trying to get some rest, when one of the ministers volunteers that he has a confession to make.

The preacher confesses that he has a problem with alcohol. He felt that he needed to share his problem with his closet friends in hopes that they would help.

The second preacher, while trying to console the first, says that he too, had a secret weakness. He likes to smoke cigars every once in a while.

The third preacher announces that since they were sharing their secret faults that he has a problem . . . "I like to gossip."

Judgment Day

A preacher says to a farmer, "Do you belong to the Christian family?"

"No," says he, "They live two farms down."

"No, I mean are you lost?"

"No, I've been here thirty years."

"I mean are you ready for Judgment Day?"

"When is it?"

"It could be today or tomorrow."

"Well, when you find out for sure when it is, you let me know. My wife will probably want to go both days!"

Peanuts

A preacher goes to visit an elderly woman from his church who has just had an operation. As he is sitting there talking with her, he notices a bowl of peanuts on the stand next to the bed. He begins to eat them, and soon it was time for him to leave. When he gets up he notices he has eaten all of her peanuts. "Sister Jones," he says, "I'm sorry I ate all of your peanuts." She replies "That's okay pastor, I already sucked all the chocolate off of them."

Communion

Being a new pastor to an aging congregation, Brother Elmond tells them he will be serving them prune juice in Holy Communion.

"Why would you do that?" one man asks.

"Well, if the Holy Spirit won't move you -- the prune juice will!"

Pet Store

A pastor places his order at the pet store, "I need at least 50 mice, 2000 ants and as many of those little silverfish you can get."

The clerk replies, "We can probably do that, but it might take some time. Mind if I ask why you are placing such an unusual order?"

The pastor replies, "I've accepted a call to another church and the congregation council told me to leave the parsonage just the way I found it."

The Devil Made Me Do It

Struggling to make ends meet on a first-call salary, the pastor is livid when he confronts his wife with the receipt for a $250 dress she has bought. "How could you do this?!"

"I was outside the store looking at the dress in the window, and then I found myself trying it on," she explains. "It was like Satan was whispering in my ear, 'You look fabulous in that dress. Buy it!'"

"Well," the pastor replies, "You know how I deal with that kind of temptation. I say, 'Get behind me, Satan!'"

"I did," replies his wife, "But then he says, 'It looks fabulous from back here, too!'"

Missed Turn

Three preachers are driving down the road when they miss a turn and go into the ditch. As they pull themselves together, a drunk pulls up and asks if they are all right.

"Oh, yes, Jesus is with us," one replies.

"Well, you'd better let him get in with me, you're going to kill him!"

Grand jury returns indictments

The indictment charges Stamper with possession of a firearm by a convicted felon, three counts of wanton endangerment, first degree, tampering with physical evidence, and public intoxication - controlled substance.

According to the indictment, Stamper shot a rifle toward Craig Stamper, Greg Stamper, and Sonya Huff on May 9. He then allegedly tried to hide the rifle to conceal the evidence.

The investigation was conducted by Trooper Robinson.

Bryan Allen Gosnell, 31, of Lancaster, Ky. was named in a five count indictment. He is charged with carrying a concealed deadly weapon, drug paraphernalia - buy/posses, two counts of possession of a controlled substance, first degree and first offense (4 oxycodone and 20 morphine), and possession of a controlled substance, second degree (2.5 suboxone).

Gosnell reportedly had a loaded 9 mm pistol behind his truck seat on April 28 and did not have a permit.

He allegedly had two cut straws with residue. Deputy Smith was the investigating officer.

An indictment charges Steve Jones, 57, of Coral Avenue, Irvine with public intoxication of a controlled substance, possession of a controlled substance, first degree and first offense (methamphetamine), possession of a controlled substance, third degree (suboxone), and drug paraphernalia - buy/possession.

The alleged offenses occurred May 2. The paraphernalia was allegedly two syringes.

Trooper Robinson conducted the investigation.

A six count indictment was returned against Brian Joe Henry, 36, of Timberline Trail, Irvine.

Henry is charged with possession of a handgun by a convicted felon, wanton endangerment, first degree - police officer, three counts of wanton endangerment, first degree.

The indictment says that Henry had a Lorcin Engineering pistol on May 9.

He allegedly pointed a loaded handgun toward Deputy Morris, Jeff Henry, Della Henry, and a juvenile. Deputy Morris conducted the investigation.

Ricky L. Abney, 37, of Turner Avenue Irvine was charged by indictment with trafficking in a controlled substance, first degree and first offense (methamphetamine), carrying a concealed weapon, drug paraphernalia - buy/possess, and public intoxication of a controlled substance.

The indictment states that Abney had 9.5 grams of methamphetamine, brass knuckles, and a glass pipe in his possession on June 2.

Trooper Robinson was the investigating officer.

Joseph G. Rawlins, 31, of Campbells Branch Road, Irvine was indicted for cultivating marijuana (5 plants or more) and second degree persistent felony offender.

According to the indictment, Rawlins had five marijuana plants in a flower pot on June 1. He has been previously convicted of a felony.

The investigation was made by Trooper Robinson.

Heather McKinney, 32, of St. Timothy's Road, Irvine, was indicted for theft by unlawful taking or disposition of a firearm and possession of a handgun by a convicted felon.

The indictment says that she had a Smith & Wesson .357 caliber pistol between December 25 and January 4 which was reported stolen by Shirley Stevens. Trooper Robinson investigated the case.

Justin A. Mosley, 25, of Crabtree Lane, Irvine, was indicted for trafficking in stolen identities and first degree persistent felony offender.

According to the indictment, he had nine social security cards with the intent to sell in his possession on February 11. The indictment states that Mosley has been convicted of at least two prior felonies.

Paul T. Masters, 42, and Rebecca L. Masters, 41, both of 235 Macedonia Road, Irvine were named as co-defendants in a four-count indictment.

They were charged with trafficking in a controlled substance, first degree and first offense, endangering the welfare of a minor, and drug paraphernalia - buy/possess.

The indictment states on April 15, the couple had 8.78 grams of methamphetamine, a meth pipe, plastic baggies and a digital scale in their possession. It also says they subjected an eight-month old child to danger.

Mr. Masters was also indicted on a charge of tampering with physical evidence. The indictment says he threw a plate down beside the wall that had three baggies of meth in order to conceal evidence.

The investigation was conducted by Trooper Robinson. A superseding indictment was returned against Justin A. Mosley, 25, of Crabtree Lane, Irvine and Heather L. Rose, Traylor Road, Irvine.

A superseding indictment means an indictment on the same case has already been returned, but there is new evidence which may add a new charge or change the previous charge.

The latest indictment charges Justin Mosley with first degree burglary, possession of a firearm by convicted felon, first degree persistent felony offender.

Heather Rose is charged with complicity to burglary, first degree and second degree persistent felony offender.

The burglary occurred February 8 at the residence of Kim Dawes and Robert Rucker. The indictment states that Mosley have five long guns and two pistols in his possession.

The indictment says Mosley has been convicted of at least two prior felonies and Rose at least one.

Both were charged with theft by unlawful taking or disposition of an auto. The indictment states they took a blue 2007 Chevrolet Malibu on Feb. 8 which belonged to Betty Horn.

Deputy Morris conducted the investigation.

A report was also given of a waiver of a grand jury indictment by Douglas Newman.

Newman is facing charges of fleeing or evading police first degree, resisting arrest, and wanton endangerment - second degree, resisting arrest, and wanton endangerment of a police officer, second degree.

The report says that he ran on November 21 after an officer gave him verbal commands to stop running, and he turned and jerked when the officer attempted to place him under arrest. He allegedly refused verbal commands and the officer had to prise Newman's hands out from under his body and try to hold them to place hand cuffs on him.
