Fruit, Orchard & Vineyard Sanitation

each cut with a sanitizer, such as rubbing alcohol or household bleach. Rake and remove fallen buds, flowers, fruit, twigs, and leaves. Collect all fruit from trees, bushes, and vines.

Discard diseased fruit since it can serve as a source of inoculum in subsequent growing seasons. Above and below ground portions of severely infected trees, bushes, and vines should be completely removed and destroyed.

All discarded plant material should be burned, buried, or removed with yard waste. Do not compost diseased plant material.

Remove weeds, including roots, which may serve as alternate hosts for pathogens.

When treating infected plants with fungicides, remove infected tissues prior to application.

Transplant Shock Publication

Autumn is one of the best times to plant new trees. Cool-season planting allows trees to "focus" on root system development.

Woody plants may take as long as 3 to 5 years to establish and recover from relocation, and cool-season planting may help with a quicker establishment.

When trees and shrubs are moved from one growing site to another, they endure stress that results in poor root establishment.

This stress may be the effect of improper installation and/or selection of poor planting material, resulting in a condition known as "transplant shock".

Plants that suffer from transplant shock may exhibit decline, dieback, reduced growth, and eventually death. In addition, plants experiencing transplant shock are more susceptible to secondary disease issues.

There are also several diseases that cause symptoms similar to those resulting from transplant shock-related stresses.

For more information on transplant shock and related disease problems, including symptoms, causes, and prevention, review the publication Transplant Shock: Disease or Cultural Problem?

(UK Extension publication PPFS-OR-W-19). You can find a copy online at <http://plantpathology.ca.uky.edu/files/ppfs-or-w-19.pdf> or request a hard copy from the Extension office by calling 606-723-4557.

Grain Moisture Testing

As grain harvest time approaches, farmers need to monitor standing grain moisture levels to determine the best time to harvest for proper storage.

As an agriculture service component of the Estill County Extension Service, we have a grain moisture tester so farmers can test grain moisture locally. If you are interested, visit or call the Estill County Extension Office, 76 Golden Court, Irvine.

Educational programs of the Cooperative Extension Service serve all people regardless of economic or social status and will not discriminate on the basis of race, color, ethnic origin, national origin, creed, religion, political belief, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, gender expressions, pregnancy, marital status, genetic information, age, veteran status, or physical or mental disability.

HERE IS A PLEASANT LITTLE GAME that will give you a message every day. It's a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner and check one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

When their tassels begin to turn brown, pull ears downward and twist to take the them off the stalk. Remove all husks, tassel silk and stalks, and place shucked cobs of corn in cold water until time to cook. Bring a large kettle of water to a rapid boil, adding 1 tablespoon of salt for each quart of water. Toss in all your corn cobs and boil them 3-5 minutes. Remove and drain, and serve hot with butter and salt.

Change of Seasons
I think this is my favorite time of year for bird transition. Out are the loud, whooping calls from the great-crested flycatcher and the buzzy trill of the N. parula. In are soft chips from yellow-rumped and yellow-throated warblers. Soon the gray catbird will be mewing on my fence post. I adore autumn.

Smart Driver Course Offered

There will be an AARP Smart Driver Course on Thursday, November 1st, 12:30 p.m. to 4:30 p.m. at the Estill County Extension office, 76 Golden Court (off Stacey Lane) in Irvine.

This driver safety course is designed especially for drivers age 50 and older. Some insurance companies offer a discount for clients who attend this type training. To see if this course qualifies you for a discount, contact your insurance agent.

The cost is $15 for AARP members and $20 for non-members. Please call 723-4557 to pre-register by October 28th.

The highest compliment my clients can give me is the referral of their friends, family and business partners.

Thank you!
