Mercy Health - Marcum and Wallace Hospital Re-verified as Level IV Trauma Center

Mercy Health - Marcum and Wallace Hospital was Kentucky's first Level IV Trauma Center and will remain a part of the Kentucky Trauma Care System after passing re-verification recently. The facility was re-verified with no discrepancies and was cited as a "prototype" organization for trauma.
In 2012, Marcum and Wallace Hospital was a part of the inaugural group of hospitals designated into Kentucky's Trauma Care System. The system was put in place to get "the right patient to the right place at the right time." To be designated a Level IV trauma center, certain resources must be available at the facility. Initial trauma care is performed locally and then patients are transferred to a higher level of trauma care, if necessary. Marcum and Wallace Hospital has access to standardized education for clinicians and procedures for a "trauma alert." The Marcum and Wallace Hospital Emergency Department serves nearly 14,000 adult and pediatric patients annually.

"It's about working together for our patients," said Susan Starling, Marcum and Wallace Hospital President and CEO. "EMS, clinicians and hospital staff utilize a best-practice system that exists to get our patients the most appropriate care in the least amount of time. Time is precious when we are in traumatic situations. Patients have a better chance of survival when they are given care within the golden hour - sixty minutes within the injury."

In March 2008, Kentucky lawmakers passed House Bill 371 which established the initial framework of a statewide trauma system and the formation of the Kentucky Trauma Advisory Committee.

Library Happenings Estill Public Library by Shannon Horn

November 16th, 2018

Hello Everyone!
Just a reminder that, because of Thanksgiving, we will be on a different schedule. Wednesday, the 21st we will be open from 9:00-5:00. Storytime will still be at 10:30, so I hope to see my little friends there. The library will be closed on Thursday the 22nd and Wednesday the 23rd, however we will be open again on Saturday from 9:00-2:00!
Adult Programs
If you have been on our Facebook recently you would have seen our announcements about Crafternoon. On Wednesday, November 28th at 12:00 Nelle Williams will be here to teach us how to make peanut butter roll. Let me just say, her peanut butter roll is delicious!! If you would like to sign up for this class, please call the library at 723-3030. On December 12th we will have our Crickets out again. We had such a success with everyone making Christmas cards that we wanted to give you the chance again. We will be starting at 1:30!
Our final Pickin' in the Park concert had to be postponed. Senora May Childers will be with us in concert on the 27th at 6:30. If you got a ticket it will still be valid. We will be having the concert in our meeting room. Parking will probably be tight, so park on the street or at the church again the street.
Teen Programs
The Young Adult Book Club will be hosting a book tasting on December 18th from 4:00 - 5:30. This is for middle and high school students. There are only 12 seats available so call in a make a reservation. The teens will be getting a "bite" of several different books. This will be a really cool program. Call 723-3030 to make a reservation.
Fandom Friday was interesting last week. We played a long game of Apples to Apples. Then some of the boys played SmashBros while the rest of us hung out. We will not have Fandom Friday this week. However, we will have it again on the 30th. We will be having a spy themed day, including a decoding game. The winner will get a prize and bragging rights of course!
Kid Programs
Storytime is as fun as ever! The kids helped write a story about a girl named Olivia. I typed it up and posted it on our Facebook. Please go read it. It is so cute. They loved it so much that they want to do it again. Baby and Me Storytime will not be meeting this week because of Thanksgiving. However, I will be ready to see everyone on the 30th.
The Homeschool Enrichment Program will have a fun time at our next meeting. We are having an original Thanksgiving food tasting. We will get to eat while I go over some of the resources that our library has to offer. So homeschool families, I would love to see you on the 29th to show you what our library can do to help you with teaching your children. We have a ton of resources either in book form or online.
That's all for this week! Come see us!
