American Legion Auxiliary members wrapped gifts after parents chose them Saturday afternoon for their children.

The children drew a number from Santa's Elf, Betty Threadgill. The number was used to determine what group of present the child picked out. This was in addition to what the parents chose for their children.

Megan West held her young son, Haze, at the American Legion Post 79 Toys for Estill County Kids on Saturday afternoon. Haze is enjoying a hot dog, one of the many foods available for the children while they were waiting for Santa to arrive.
