Are you a Planter? Waterer? Weeder? or All?

Well, before I get started, I'm going to make a plug on my newest business venture. We now have Double J Nursery and Garden Center at 199 Red Lick Road, open for business. Stop by and check us out. We will be giving away free seedlings until they run out. The trees are a mix of oaks, paw paw, dogwoods, persimmon, etc. They are all mixed up; stop by and grab a handful or two. They all are great wildlife trees.

We have planted about 300,000 tree seedlings this year in Kentucky and West Virginia. In the past four years we have planted well over a million trees. We will return to most of the sites and do invasive spraying with the goal trying to kill or keep at bay all the bad stuff such as multi-flora rose. This gives the trees time to get established and not choked out.

Once we plant the trees they are on their own to survive except for the spraying of invasive species. The trees only get rain for water. So if it gets dry, they are on their own. The trees don't get any fertilizer. They just get what the ground has to offer. That's how the contract is written for us. The contract states we have to have a 90% survival rate, which we get.

All this planting got me to thinking about non-believers, young believers and what category the old believer falls into. Are you a planter? Are you a weeder? Are you a waterer?

There are a lot of people who don't know Jesus. As a believer we need to be planting the seed of the Gospel to everyone. We need to not be ashamed to plant. It should be a labor of love to plant. The harvest comes to everyone someday and after harvest is Heaven or Hell.

The young Christians sometimes can get tangled up in the weeds. The older believer must be there to help them get the weeds out. If the weeds are left to grow, it can choke all growth out. So, be a mentor to the young believers.

If young Christians don't get nourished with the Living Water there will be no growth. As an older believer, we need to help nourish the young Christians. I want to see a 100% survival rate.

Planter? Weeder? Waterer? Where do you fall? Until next week, get out and enjoy God's creation!
