Maudie's Naughties

Anniversary

Ma and Pa are celebrating their 50th wedding anniversary and someone asks Pa what he has learned from all those years he's spent with Ma.

"Well," says Pa, "I've learned that marriage is the best teacher of all. It teaches you loyalty, forbearance, meekness, self-restraint, and forgiveness."

"What else have you learned?" they ask.

"That I wouldn't have had to learn all that stuff if I had just stayed single."

Well Insured

Gus and Slim show up at the same beach in Florida.

"What are you doing here?" asks Gus.

Slim replies, "You remember that overpriced house I bought in Richmond? Well, it caught fire the other day, so here I am with the insurance proceeds. What are you doing here?"

"Well," replies Gus. "You remember that big house I bought next to the river at Boonesborough? Well, the river flooded it, so here I am with the flood insurance proceeds."

"Gee," says Slim, "How do you start a flood?"

Special Ring

An older, white haired man walks into a jewelry store one Saturday evening with a beautiful young gal at his side. He tells the jeweler he is looking for a special ring for his girlfriend. The jeweler looks through his stock and brings out a $5,000 ring.

The old man says, "No, I'd like to see something more special."

So, the jeweler goes to his special stock and brings another ring over. "Here's a stunning ring at only $40,000." The young lady's eyes sparkle and her body trembles with excitement.

The old man seeing this says, "We'll take it. I'll pay you for it with a check and you can hold the ring until Monday morning when the bank open so you can see that the check clears."

Monday morning, the jeweler phones the man and says, "There's no money in that account."

"Yeah," says the old man. "But that didn't stop me from having a great weekend."

The Best Gunfighter

Junior and Bubba are coming home from Myrtle Beach and decide to stop by at one of the Old West towns in North Carolina where they use real-like guns that shoot rubber bullets. Junior wants to be like one of the old time gunfighters, so he buys a pistol and holster goes into an saloon.

Just as he walks in, an old man looks at him and says, "If you'll tie that holster lower onto your leg you'll be able to pull your gun out of the holster better."

Junior ties the holster lower and decides he going to try to see if he can get the gun out quicker. But the gun goes off accidentally and the rubber bullet knocks off the hat of a man sitting down at the end of the bar.

The old man says, "If you'll cut a notch in the top of your holster where the hammer hits, the gun will come out smoother."

Junior does so and then practices his draw again. The gun fires again, this time striking the leg of the same man as before who is sitting at the end of the bar, causing the man to fall onto the floor with the pain and discomfort from the rubber bullet.

The old man hands Junior a can of grease and says, "Here, rub this grease all over your gun and that will make it better."

Junior starts rubbing the grease all over his gun but he protests, saying, "I don't see how all this grease can help my draw."

"It won't," says the old man. "But that man you just shot is going to stick that gun where the sun doesn't shine... all that grease will keep you from hurting so much."

Blind Pilots

Two pilots come onto the plane wearing dark glasses. One is using a guide dog and the other is tapping his way along the aisle with a cane.

Nervous laughter spreads throughout the cabin as the men enter the cockpit, the door closes and the engines start up. The passengers begin glancing nervously around, searching for some sign that this is just a little practical joke.

The plane moves faster and faster down the runway and the people sitting in the window seats suddenly realize they're headed straight for the water at the edge of the airport. As it begins to look as though the plane will plow into the water, panicked screams fill the cabin.

At that moment, the plane lifts smoothly into the air. The passengers relax and laugh a little sheepishly and soon all retreat into their magazines, secure in the knowledge that the plane is in good hands.

In the cockpit, one of the pilots turns to the other and says, 'Ya know, Bob, one of these days, they're gonna scream too late and we're all gonna die.'

Repair Job

Ma and Pa are sitting in the living room watching Hee Haw reruns when Ma says, "Hey, Pa, When are you going to fix that hole in the ceiling?"

"Well," replies Pa, "When you put away all your junk from off the couch and clean up this house."

A few minutes later, Ma is on the stepladder with a ruler and a pencil, measuring the hole.

"What are you doing?" asks Pa.

"Fixing the hole."

Harry Dean Stanton Fest to Carry On

Although we lost this Estill County born entertainer and one of Hollywood's great all-time character actors when Harry Dean Stanton died last September, the annual Harry Dean Stanton Fest will carry on.

This year's celebration of Stanton's work will take place July 13-15 in Lexington, Kentucky. Confirmed guests include actor Dabney Coleman and director Drago Sumonia, who will be taking part in a Q&A session after a screening of Stanton-featuring documentary "Character". Dennis Quaid will be performing a show with his band, the Sharks. Quaid was a longtime friend of Stanton. They first met on the set of the 1976 movie "The Missouri Breaks". That film will be screened during the 3-day weekend fest along with "Crossing Mulholland", "Young Doctors in Love", "Private Benjamin", "Repo Man", and last year's "Lucky".

Upcoming Book about Harry Dean Stanton?

Mr. Adkins has visited Hollywood to search for information there. He found that Harry Dean was well liked and admired by his fellow entertainers. He has almost a cult following of his acting and musical talents by fans on the West Coast.
