

Estill Engineers Fall to Bath, 47-30

The Estill County Engineers dropped their third contest of the season last Friday night, September 14, 2018, against the Bath County Wildcats in Owingsville, 47-30.

The loss came just a week after the young Estill team had picked up a big win over Boyd County at Ashland, 50-15.

Estill played very well at times but had a rough time containing Bath's senior running back Landan Swartz who ran for 217 yards and four touchdowns.

The Engineers fell behind 19-0 before they were able to cross the line and add extra points to cut the lead to 19-8.

Sophomore Coben Clem picked up 115 yards for the Engineers on twelve carries and scored three touchdowns. Chris Rigdon carried three times for 61 yards and one touchdown.

Eli Haskell and Ty Niece topped Estill on tackles with 10 each. Jonovan Miller and Justin Stamper had seven each and Wyatt Francisco had six.

The Engineers finished with 254 yards rushing and allowed 459 yards rushing and passing.

Estill is now 1-3 with losses to Paintsville, Western Hills and Bath County and the single win against Boyd County.

They start their district campaign this Friday night at home against Morgan County.

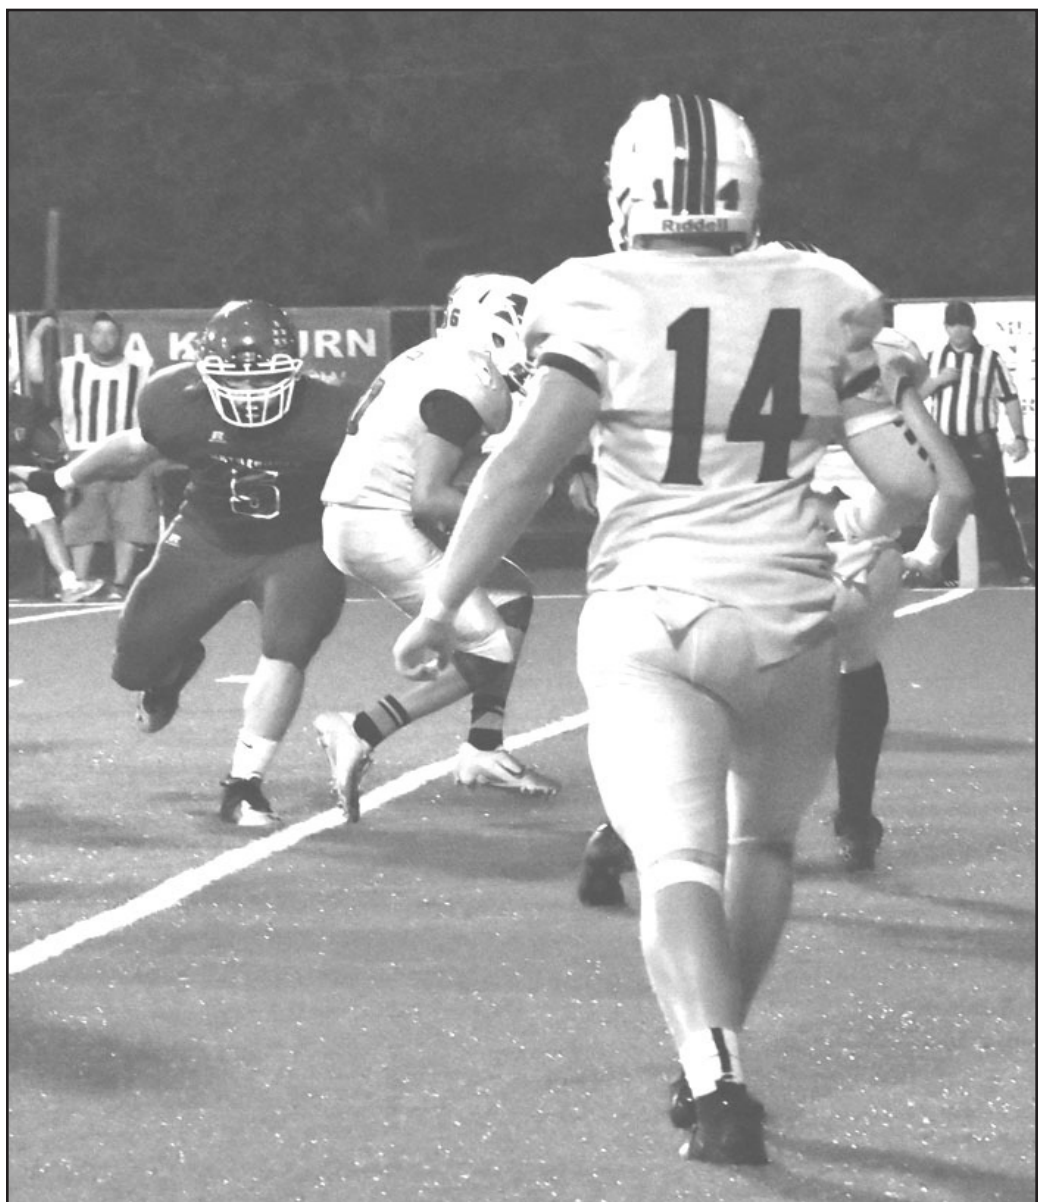

Once again, the Engineers are playing in a 6-team district against Morgan, Breathitt, Powell, Magoffin, and Knott County Central.

Estill plays two straight at home, Morgan then Breathitt; two straight away, Powell and Magoffin; then has a home district contest against KCC before finishing at home against Lexington Christian.

Katie Crowe of the football boosters reminds us that Friday, September 21, we are recognizing all 1980's ECHS football players and cheerleaders at that game. All former football players and cheerleaders are invited to come and be recognized. Also, that night at the football game it will be "Teacher Appreciation Night."

The game begins at 7:30 p.m. GO, ENGINEERS!

Estill Engineers' freshman quarterback Ty Niece (#6) keeps the ball for the extra points after the Engineers' first touchdown against the Bath County Wildcats on Friday night. This was Niece's first of three total point after attempts. This one cut the Bath lead to 19-8.

Boys Soccer, Volleyball Doing Well

Among the Estill County High School's other fall teams, boys soccer and girls volleyball are doing exceptionally well. Girls soccer is still struggling following a rough start in the new season.

Lady Engineers Volleyball

The Estill County Lady Engineers volleyball team is probably one of the best in school history and was 14-6 going into a match on Tuesday night against Breathitt County.

Coach Shayla Carroll's team are 8-2 in the region and 4-0 in the district and won over Powell County 3-2 on August 30th in one of only about six times when the Lady Engineers have beaten the Lady Pirates.

Carroll's team plays Morgan County away on Wednesday; then returns for a 4-game home stand including that all important rematch against Powell County on Thursday, September 27th which will likely determine the district season championship.

Regular season ends for Estill volleyball on October 4th at Menifee County.

Engineers Soccer

The Estill County Engineers under new head coach Ryan Sutter is doing very well with an 8-1-1 record, having only lost to Oneida Baptist Institute by a goal and tied with Perry County Central, 2-2.

The Engineers are 7-0 in the 14th Region and 6-0 in the district.

Estill's boys play three away including Powell County on the 24th and finish at home against Riverside Christian and Wolfe County before tournaments.

Lady Engineers Soccer

The Estill County Lady Engineers soccer team is 1-5-1 with their only win being over Oneida Baptist Institute. They also tied against Perry County Central, 2-2.

The Lady Engineers will be away for three contests before finishing at home against Menifee County on the 25th and Fleming County on the 26th.

Good Luck Estill!

Living Archaeology Weekend 2018

Teaching others about the past and inspiring stewardship

The Daniel Boone National Forest and its partners are proud to announce that the 30th annual Living Archaeology Weekend will once again be held in the scenic Red River Gorge. This unique event brings skilled artisans to the location where ancient Native Americans and early settlers once made their home.

Set alongside the Red River and the historic Gladie Cabin, the artisans will demonstrate the essential skills that people needed to live within this region's rugged landscape.

For more than 50 years, archaeological studies have been conducted in the Red River Gorge. The exhibits and materials presented at the event are based on research and archaeological discoveries found here.

The event participants will see flint knapping, hide tanning and spear throwing with tools modeled after those found by archaeologists. Visitors will observe the making of string, or cordage, by a specialist who has studied ancient textiles from the gorge. Other demonstrations include the making of ceramic pottery in the style of the local area; weaving cane baskets, modeled after actual recovered fragments; and cooking of local wild game.

On Friday, September 21 the program demonstrations are for preregistered school groups only, primarily targeting fifth grade curriculum.

"About 1,000 students from local schools are scheduled to attend," said Adams. "Because they get to participate in hands-on activities, we always have a high demand for students to attend the event."

The Living Archaeology Weekend is open to the general public on Saturday, September 22 from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Admission is free. Concessions will be available for purchase from the American Veterans Post 67 from Clay City.
