

Times Remembered
Betty A. Young

BYoung505@Outlook.com

Colton Helton, our grandson, was selected by the Coca Cola Company to be the UK vs. Missouri football game ball delivery kid through the Scott County Schools athletic partnership with Coke. He got to go onto the field and be with the team during warm ups, and ran out onto the field with the team where he presented the game ball to the head official of the game.

Game Ball Delivery

Colton and his parents, Tara and Steve Helton watched the game in the Coca Cola Suite and received all you can eat VIP treatment. Colton's favorite, Tacos and Hot Dogs.

Colton is a 5th grade honor student at Anne Mason Elementary in Georgetown and he is active in football, basketball and baseball. He played Quarterback for the Kansas City Chiefs in league play this year. He also plays Red Storm basketball and Baseball and he attends Grace Christian Worship.

Another of his recent adventures is owning a puppy, a Golden Retriever named Baker who is learning fetch and catch and play tug of war, and he is a promising athlete!

Kentucky won their game on Saturday that made Colton's day even more exciting. After Kentucky's loss to Georgia last week Kentucky bounced back to win a 29-7 victory at Kroger Field. Kentucky dominated Missouri for its biggest win of the season.

Colton and his puppies

Colton delivers UK game ball

Steve, Colton and Tara Helton at the UK-Missouri game

Mirrors don't lie; what you see is what you get

America's Heartland
Roger Alford

RogerAlford1@GMail.Com

I heard about a lady who went to lunch at a restaurant with an old friend from college.

As they chatted, the friend pointed at two elderly women across the room and said, "that will be us in 20 years."

The lady said, "That's a mirror."

Age certainly has a way of sneaking up on us. It seems like it was only yesterday that I was a little boy catching crawdads in a small stream near our home, chasing rusty Joe lizards around fence posts, tying thread to a June bug's leg and playing until the big green insect grew too tired to fly. We didn't have lots of toys to play with in those days, but we had lots of siblings and lots of critters to entertain us.

I don't know about you, but sometimes I catch a glimpse of myself in the mirror and wonder where the time has gone.

Life truly is like a wisp of steam -- here one moment and gone the next.

I love listening to my good friend Rosemary Gaines as she tells stories from her childhood. Rosemary is now 89 years old, but the memories of her early days are so incredibly vivid, as if the events had just happened yesterday. She says, those 89 years passed in a flash. She, with her husband, William, raised a great family and helped build a strong church. William has since graduated to heaven, but Rosemary continues to be a blessing, even though she doesn't get around as well as she once did and can't do many of the things she once could. But she can still pray.

I was talking in church the other day about how the Apostle Peter was fortunate that, when he was thrown into prison, he had people who prayed for him. At the time, he had 16 guards assigned to him and he was scheduled for execution.

"Prayer was made without ceasing unto God for him" (Acts 12:5).

The Bible goes on to explain that God heard the prayers of Peter's friends and sent an angel to miraculously deliver him out of that prison.

All of us need someone who is willing and able to reach heaven for us when we're facing difficulties.

I'm glad Rosemary is one of the people who does that for me. I describe Rosemary as 5-foot-nothing, 75 pounds of pure dynamite. When it comes to prayer power, she is living proof that dynamite comes in small packages. When I hear of a great need among one of our local families, I always call Rosemary to pray because I have so much confidence in her. She takes Jesus at his word when he says, "Ask and it will be given to you; seek and you will find; knock and it will be opened to you" (Luke 11:9).

Rosemary may not be as young as she once was, but she's still getting it done for the Lord.

She's proof that the passing years aren't a disadvantage when it comes to serving the Lord. In fact, those years can be an advantage, because people with seven or eight or nine decades under their belts have experienced far more life and have so much more wisdom to share with younger generations.

So, if you've been blessed to reach your senior years, and if you catch a glimpse of yourself in the mirror, I hope you see a person who knows how to get in touch with Heaven.

Roger Alford is pastor of South Fork Baptist Church. Reach him at P.O. Box 673, Owenton, Ky. 40359 or by calling 502-514-6857.

REVIVAL

Turning Point Apostolic

735 Cow Creek Road, Ravenna
Friday, Saturday & Sunday
November 8, 9 & 10 @ 7pm

Friday's speaker

Bro. George Stidham

Saturday's speaker

Bro. Charles Clark

Sunday's speaker

Bro. Jeremy Peavie

Come and join us for old time gospel preaching!

Larry McIntosh, pastor

Thus saith the LORD, Stand ye in the ways, and see, and ask for the old paths, where is the good way, and walk therein, and ye shall find rest for your souls.

— Jeremiah 6:16

Estill County Memorial Service

A Memorial Service honoring and remembering those from Estill County who died during the past year will be held at the Irvine First Christian Church on Main Street in Irvine on Monday, November 4th at 7 p.m.

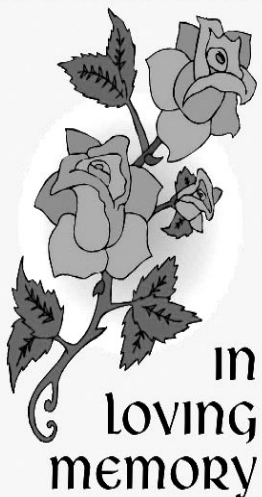

This service is sponsored by Mercy Health - Marcum and Wallace Hospital, in conjunction with the Estill County Ministerial Association and Interfaith Wellness Ministry.

This Memorial Service will include scripture readings, reflections by Ministers from our local churches, and the reading of the name of each loved one who has died.

The memorial will be held in the context of an inter-faith, Christian worship service.

Family members of the deceased, as well as the public, are invited. You do not need to call and sign up to attend.

Please join us as we remember those who have so recently been a part of our lives and whose death we recall in the light of the Resurrection.

in loving memory