Maudie's Naughties

Cycle Accident

Two guys are riding up the road on a motorcycle. The driver wears a leather jacket turned around backwards to block the air. They enter into a sharp curve where the driver loses control and wrecks.

An old farmer who lives nearby calls in the accident. "Are either of them showing any signs of life?" asks the emergency operator.

"Well, the driver was," answers the farmer, "Until I turned his head around the right way."

Fire School

Farmer Green's wife calls up Ma one day to ask about their cousin Trudy who has enrolled in fire fighting school. "How's she doing," asks Mrs. Green. "I haven't heard from her."

"Well, she was doing pretty good," replies Ma. "Until the class on fire extinguishers. Trudy has a problem pulling the pin. So, the instructor tells her, 'It's just like a hand grenade.' Trudy jerks out the pin and throws the extinguisher at the fire."

Trapped on the Second Floor

Trixie and Mitzie are living on the second floor downtown when a fire breaks out in the business below. Mitzie is at work, but Trixie is at home and is trapped by the fire below. Firemen rush to the scene where they coax Trixie onto the window ledge and tell her to jump into a blanket they are holding.

"No way!" says Trixie. "You guys pulled that trick on me last summer at the beach . . . Just lay the blanket on the ground and I'll jump into it!"

Lifesaver

Aunt Hilda tells Ma how she got a broken arm and four broken ribs when she was trapped by a fire on the second floor a few years ago while living in Norwood, Ohio. "I was hanging on the ledge with the fire raging below me," says Hilda. "The fire trucks hadn't arrived yet, and there was no escape. Suddenly, from out of the crowd gathered below, a huge professional football player pushes his way to the front and yells for me to jump and he'll catch me."

"I was a little reluctant," continues Hilda. "But he tells me that as a receiver for the football team, he does it all the time with the football and he won't have any trouble catching me . . . So, I jump and he catches me safely in his arms."

"I thought you told me you got a broken arm and four broken ribs?!?!?" says Ma.

"Oh," replies Hilda. "That came from when he spiked me to the ground and yelled, 'TOUCH . . . DOWN!'"

Seduction

A frail, little old lady walks into the police station and says, "Help, I was taken advantage of by a tall, dark, handsome man!" The cop says, "When?"

She says, "Twenty-three years ago."

The cop says, "What are you telling me now for?"

The little old lady says, "I just like to talk about it once in a while."

Lost in the Gorge

One day, Stupid, Trouble, and Shut Up are hiking in The Gorge when Trouble wanders away from the trail and they can't find him. Well, Stupid and Shut Up do not know what to do so they go to the ranger station. When they get there the ranger asks them their names.

"Shut Up," replies Shut Up. "Stupid," replies Stupid. "Excuse Me!" shouts the ranger.

"Shut Up!" "Stupid!" The ranger is very riled. He then asks, "Are you looking for trouble?!?!?"

Stunned at the idea of the ranger knowing that they are looking for their friend, they reply, "Why yes, how did you know?"

Ride Home

Cowboy Joe gets paid every Friday and immediately rides into town to a bar where he gets plastered, then stumbles out to his horse and rides home.

A couple of his fellow cowhands decide to play a trick on him. While he's in the bar, they turn his horse around; then they sneak back into the bar for a couple more rounds. The next morning, a bucket of cold water thrown on Joe brings him around and he gets up ready to go back to work. "How was your ride home last night," asks one of the pranksters?"

"Not so good," replies Joe. "Somebody sneaked and cut my horse's head off last night, and I had to pull him all the way home with my finger in his windpipe!"

Science Question

If H2O is on the inside of a fire hydrant, what is on the outside? K9P

Bridge Painting Project Is Awarded for Red River Bridge

Bridge painting projects have been awarded for Clark County which includes the bridge on Interstate 64 over the Mountain Parkway/KY 9000 and the bridge on Irvine Road/KY 89 over Red River at the Estill County line.

The Kentucky Transportation Cabinet (KYTC) announced that two bridge painting projects are scheduled for Clark County. The bridges will be cleaned and repainted. Euro Paint LLC was awarded the work for $1,306,064.99. The anticipated completion date for both projects is Friday, November 15, 2019.

The first bridge to be cleaned and painted will be Interstate 64 over the Mountain Parkway/KY 9000. The location is milepoint 97.675.

After work for the bridge on Interstate 64 is completed, the bridge on Irvine Road/KY 89 at milepoint 0.0 will be cleaned and painted.

The traveling public will be informed of impacts to traffic through advisories furnished to media outlets.

NOTICE: A red light has already been put in place at the foot of Red River Hill in anticipation of the project's beginning.
