Many lament the spiritual decline in our nation. We see a culture in decline and the rising tide of secularism. We know that our God is powerful - that He can dominate the lives of those who profess to love Him - if they will only allow Him. He is willing and able. But we must become willing and available if we want renewal and revival. The responsibility is on us. The possibility is with Him.

God's children in all ages come close to and then turn away from Him. It's as though at some point in time God becomes a liability, a burden, an interferer in the lives of those who profess Him as Lord. He seems to get in the way or He keeps them from enjoying the things in life that bring delight and pleasure to so many.

But this God, our God, Who is willing and waiting on those who are also willing to "call on His name." And that just may be the problem.

In Scripture, name always refers to the nature or the character or the identity of the person. And when we think of the name of God we must always associate it with holiness, purity, righteousness, sacrifice, justice, mercy, grace, love and compassion.

The writer of Psalm 80 asks "revive us," or "quicken us" and "restore us that we may be saved." Surely, God will do this because He wants to do this. But we cannot expect Him to do this unless we are willing to identify with His character and repent and become as He is. If we want things to revive, revival must begin in each of us.

From the Contents of One's Heart

by BOB CASEY, preacher Cornerstone Church of Christ
70 Bond Street at Camp Avenue in West Irvine

As we begin, let me say, we praise the Lord for a good attendance and for a good sermon delivered by Cain Adkinson, this past Lord's Day at West Irvine. We did hope that through this article and personal invitations, you too will want to come and check us out.

In our lesson today, I will tackle the problem that many have been heard to say, "You cannot judge me!" Now, if they may be referring to the final judgment, I would have to agree and say you are right, but at the final judgment, only Christ the eternal judge will have a final say in all things.

Let us know this, that many times we may miss the point if we leave out the word, 'determines.' In Matthew 7:1-2, our Lord has given unto us these words of truth, saying, "Judge not, that ye be not judged." But, then he goes on to explain to us by saying, "For with what judgment ye judge, ye shall be judged..." 2 Corinthians 5:10 tells us clearly that there will be a judgment to come before Jesus our Lord. Romans 2:16 reaffirms this truth.

So then, making personal judgments is when we are looking outwards; but before we do, we'd better look inward. Notice in Romans 2:1, "Therefore thou art inexcusable, O man, whosoever thou art that judgest: for wherein thou judgest another, thou condemnest thyself; for thou that judgest doest the same things." So then, we need to be sure our own house is in order before we condemn someone else.

But, then I said already that the word determination is a first cousin to making judgment, for the applicational use of both of them must be established in view of what the Bible says. Notice in John 12:47, "And if any man hear my words, and believe not, I judge him not: for I came not to judge the world, but to save the world." All Jesus is saying is, that man is here upon the earth in a time of a trial period to hopefully hear Jesus and obey him until death. And, after this period of life, a final judgment is pending for sure. Revelation 20:11-15 tells of it. And then verse 15 confirms verse 14. Jesus says, Here he is speaking of our tenure here on earth. "He that rejecteth me, and receiveth not my words, hath one that judgeth him: the word that I have spoken, the same shall judge him in the last day." (Verse 48 of John 12)

So then, we are all living in a period of making determination concerning every aspect and action of life. For instance, if I desire to make Heaven my home, there is only one way to make it. In John 14:6, Jesus says, "I am the way, the truth, and the life: no man cometh unto the Father, but by me." Acts 4:12 says, "Neither is there salvation in any other: for there is none other name under heaven given among men, whereby we must be saved."

So, the statement stands strong and alone. Man's religion that has its hopes upon the teachings of men that do not have the true teachings of our Lord is a dangerous way to live. If we could not make a judgment or determination based upon the Bible, we would have no hope at all of being vindicated at the judgment. So, the Bible was given us by the Lord so that we might reach a right conclusion about our salvation, our manner of worship, the name we worship under, the truths we attempt to keep. All these are judgments we must face each day of our lives. So, as a preacher of the Bible, I have to make determinations based upon the acting of one's manner of life, and I must make them based upon "what sayeth the Lord." So, as a gospel preacher, I can make judgments or determinations by the kind of heart one has, because Jesus has said in Matthew 12:33-34, "the tree is known by his fruit" and also, "out of the abundance of the heart the mouth speaketh." So, then, we can proceed to make judgments related to what one may do and what one may say. But, allow me to say this, personal judgments shall always be done with desire to help others see their sins and tell them what they can do to have them forgiven and removed. Unless this is the preacher's goal, he has no reason to preach. Visit with us soon. We will try to do these good.

Sincerely, Bob Casey, (1-859-369-4165), local

THE ILLUSTRATED BIBLE

Your mother was like a vine in your vineyard, planted by the waters;
it was fruitful and full of branches
by reason of many waters.
It had strong rods for the scepters
of those who rule.
And its stature was exalted
above the clouds,
so it appeared in its height
with the multitude of its branches. EZEKIEL 19
