

Estill County High School Graduation 2019

Graduating band members played in the band Friday for their final time.

Anna Walters lost her mom during her junior year. Her hat has a photo of them on it, and the words "I know she's smiling." Decorated hats have not been allowed at graduations for several years, but this year's graduates said they fought to get them decorated, along with an outdoor ceremony. The rain won on Friday, so the ceremony was moved inside.

A male graduate sang with the chorus.

Brianna Townsend marched in for graduation.

Grads looked over their diplomas while checking their cell phones at the same time.
